IN THE BEE TO-DAY

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., Aug. 3, 1892.

The barometer has fallen over the northern portion of the country and risen over the southern portion.

The storm which was central over the extreme northwest has decreased in energy and remained nearly stationary. During the past 24 hours light rains have been reported from New York, Massachusetts, on the Atlantic coast as far south as Jacksonville, northern Michigan and Montana.

Generally fair weather prevails over the entire country and the indications are that it will continue except where local showers occur.

The temperature has risen over the Mississippi valley, lake region and Montana. It has fallen slightly over North and South Dakota, northern Minnesota and Nebraska, and remained about stationary elsewhere.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—On Wednesday and Thursday, fair, warmer.
E. A. HANNER, Observer.

Forecast for Ohio—Fair; slightly cooler; westerly winds, becoming variable.

For Indiana and Illinois—Fair, cooler Thursday morning; variable winds.

For Michigan and Wisconsin—Fair; slightly cooler in lower Michigan; westerly winds, becoming variable.

ALL OVER A CHURCH ORGAN.

Cincinnati, Aug. 3.—A special from Richmond, Ind., says: The members of St. Paul's Cathedral have purchased a new organ for $5,000. At a business meeting to-day a stormy scene ensued. Prominent vestrymen opposed the purchase, but J. Everist Catheld, rector, stood firm. The vestrymen have left the church entirely. Others may do the same.

Brimful of confidence in it—the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's a faith that means business, too—it's backed up by money. This is what they offer: $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure. They mean it. They're willing to take the risk—they know their medicine. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of chronic Catarrh in the Head. It's doing it every day, where everything else has failed. No matter how bad your case, or of how long standing, you can be cured. You're sure of that—or of $500. You can't have both, but you'll have one or the other.

Here are some of the symptoms of Catarrh: Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid, and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these likely to be present at once.

CARNEGIE'S GIFTS.

The Pittsburg Councils in a Peck of Trouble.

If the Recent Petitions of the Workingmen,

Concerning the Millionaire's Big Donations,

Are Acted Upon the Steel King will Immediately

Withdraw Them and Let the City of Smoke and Dirt Plod Along Without a Magnificent Public Library.

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—The Commercial-Gazette says: "Andrew Carnegie will himself withdraw his munificent donation to the city of Pittsburg in the event of councils taking any official notice of the resolutions passed from time to time during the past month by trades unions requesting that body to return the millionaire steel king's donation.

Such is, in substance, the statement made by a gentleman closely associated with the Carnegie company's interest, and he drew his conclusions from the broad hint thrown out by Mr. Carnegie in a communication of recent date to a friend in this city.

The reasons assigned are that Mr. Carnegie is on his mettle and that he would regard any official action taken upon these varied resolutions as a personal insult, backed up by base ingratitude.

Shortly after the Homestead mill riots a number of trades unions passed resolutions condemnatory of Mr. Carnegie's course and containig a petition to councils, asking that all of Mr. Carnegie's gifts to the city be returned to the donor.

These were directed by the respective lodges to be presented to councils at a special meeting of that body if one could be had during the summer.

The next regular meeting will not be held until September, but the enthusiasts were so anxious to have Mr. Carnegie's library gift returned that a big effort was made to have an extra meeting called.

Some of the members of the body, who, to use their own expressions, were "loaded for Carnegie and Frick," tried to have the special session session held, but failed.

They then concluded themselves that the resolution would be the first thing in the order of business when the first session was held.

They claimed to be the friends of the workingman, and it was nothing more than right that a gift made by the principal stockholder of a grinding monopoly should be returned.

This information was conveyed to Mr. Carnegie through the cable and also by press dispatches. He then wrote throwing out the hint referred to above.

When asked if it was Mr. Carnegie's purpose to take any immediate action in the matter the gentleman refrred to replied hat nothing would be done unless the councils opened the ball by having an ordinance of that kind presented for action.

Then he would move, and that very effectually.

The 19 acres which form the Forbes street entrance to Schenley park were sold to the city at an extraordinarily low price in considerable of the fact that the library proper was to be placed there and this would enhance the value of the other property adjoining, which is owned by Mrs. Schenley.

"Do you think Mr. Carnegie would withdraw the gift in the event of the resolutions named being tabled?" was asked.

"The action of councils," he replied, "on the trades union resolutions, whether it be favorable or against, is not the question which gives Mr. Carnegie a thought. The very fact that councils would go into a discussion of the matter is what would impel him to resent the insult in a manner which could not be misunderstood."

KNOLD HELD.

He Will Be Given Another Hearing on the Bail Question.

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—Judge Magee, in the case of Knold, said there was evidence that Knold had shown Bergman, who shot Mr. Frick. The location of the Carnegie offices, and for that reason bail would be refused until the accused had had another hearing, which was set for next Saturday morning. The judge intimated that as Knold seemed so deeply involved in the plot, the amount of bail that would be required in his case would be considerably in excess of the amount required for Bauer.

MEXICAN FINANCES.

The Government is Cutting Down Expenses.

City of Mexico, Aug. 3.—Various rumors regarding the financial policy of the government have been in circulation recently to the effect that sweeping economies were being introduced.

While it is true that the government is lopping off many expenses, it is the policy agreed on to maintain at the present level of efficiency every branch of the public service and to carry forward to completion all the great public works now in process of construction.

The interest on the debt held at home and in Europe will be met with entire punctuality, as the savings now being made will overcome the increased cost of placing gold for interest abroad. The decline in silver has been a serious matter for the government but the measures taken will make interest payments easy.

Mexican capitalists continue to form new companies, thus exhibiting proof of their belief in a continuance of good order and national credit.

EVENED IT UP.

Oak Harbor, O., Aug. 3.—(Special)—Nearly five hundred people went from here to Fremont yesterday to attend the celebration of Crogan's victory there. This was in part due to the fact that so large a crowd came to Oak Harbor on the Fourth from Fremont.

DOING HOMESTEAD WORK.

Phoenixville, Pa., Aug. 3.—Every department of the Phoenix Iron company was started up last night for the first time in years. The firm has received a number of orders from Homestead and the works will run double turn.

THE GRASSHOPPER.

Fostoria, O., Aug 3.—(Special)—During the past few days millions of grasshoppers have settled upon the clover and oats fields in Wood county and are destroying those crops almost entirely.

WILL BE NO WAR.

Berne, Aug. 3.—The Swiss government has received from the United States an apology for the arrest by mistake of an attache of the Swiss legation at Washington.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

Adjourned Meeting and Organization Completed.

Columbus, Aug. 3.—The State Association of Wholesale Grocers held an adjourned meeting at the Chittenden yesterday.

About 75 per cent. of the wholesale business of the state was represented. The organization was completed by the adoption of a constitution and by-laws. Various matters of trade were considered and suggestions offered for remedying numerous evils growing out of competition, but no action was taken.

The plan by which it is proposed to realize a profit on sugar was discussed at length. It is proposed by the manufacturers to make certain quotations on sugar allowing 1-8 of a cent a pound to jobbers.

When a Columbus firm sells sugar in a certain town, say Piqua, the freight rate from New York to Piqua will be added to the quoted price of sugar and the rate from Columbus to Piqua deducted. This would lessen the profits of the Columbus firm as compared with jobbers in Piqua, but would place all on an even footing in the market.

The executive committee has under consideration the matter of the election of a secretary, who shall give his whole time to the work of the association. The secretary is to receive a liberal salary. Mr. Orrin Thacker, who has been acting secretary of the association, will probably be appointed. Mr. Thacker is a competent and thoroughly qualified man for the position. For the last five years he has been connected with Monypeny, Hammond & Co.

WORKED THE POOL ROOMS

Western Bucket Shops Were Hit Hard.

The Agents Claim, However, That No Fraud Was Practiced by the Lucky Winners.

St. Louis, Aug. 3.—The report that the public stock exchange of this city was victimized to the extent of thousands of dollars by an organized gang of speculators is apparently without foundation.

The St. Louis office is one of a line of branches embracing this city, Denver and Kansas City, with headquarters in Chicago. It was claimed that the swindlers had gotten hold of the quotation taps which is sent in advance each day from Chicago, and by that means were enabled to anticipate the figures placed on the board.

The point of attack was on the mining quotations, and as all the branches were hit heavily it gave rise to the supposition that the quotations were stolen. This idea is scouted here, and the theory is that the winnings were the result of a carefully played system by members of the gang in each city. Yesterday the mining quotations were not posted, but the local branch say they will be given to-day as usual.

Miss Mamie Leonard is spending her summer vacation at Lakeside.

WEST VIRGINIA

Republicans Will Meet to Nominate a Ticket.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 3.—West Virgina's republican convention will meet here to-day. It will be composed of 786 delegates, nearly all of whom are now on the gound. A full state ticket will be nominated.

The principal interest, of course, centers in the gubernattorial nomination. It has already been offered and refused by Secretary Elkins, Judge Nathan Goff and Internal Revenue Collector John W. Mason.

A further effort is being made this morning to induce Secretary Elkins to accept; otherwise the chances favor the nomination of Thomas E. Davis, or ex-Congressman Atkinson. There are half a dozen less prominent aspirants for the nomination, however.

TO RE-ELECT CLARKSON.

New York, Aug. 3.—W. W. Tracy, president of the republican league of Illinois, who has been in this city making arrangements with the national committee for speakers to attend the Illinois League convention, August 18 next, says that in his opinion General J. S. Clarkson will be re-elected president of the national republican league by acclamation at the annual convention, to be held in Buffalo September 10 next. Mr. Tracy says that he has talked with General Clarkson concerning the matter and has every reason to believe that the general will accept a re-election.

CLARA BELLE McDONALD.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The old Clara Belle McDonald scandal was revived yesterday when her jewels were knocked down at auction for $2,030 to representatives of her husband, Richard. These jewels were found in the trunk of Seneca Augustus Swaim, the adventurer, who gained such great control over her.

EVENED UP THE CRIME.

Paris, Tex., Aug. 3.—At Goodland, Indian Territory, Monday, Martin Holmes was shot and killed by John Bohanan. Holmes married Bohanan's daughter and killed her about one month ago in a fit of jealousy. He was shot while in the court room. Bohanan was not arrested.

THE WRIT ISSUED.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Judge Kettelle to-day granted a writ of habeas corpus for George A. Fisher and Frank A. McAvoy, the two bookmakers who were arrested at Garfield park a week ago.

TALKING TO THE LEADERS.

New York, Aug. 3.—Hugh O'Donnell, the leader of Homestead strikers, has been in town for several days, the guest of John Milholland, the republican leader. Mr. O'Donnell left town last night.

A DAY IN CONGRESS.

No Progress Made Toward a Settlement

Of the Trouble on the World's Fair Question.

The House Adjourns Again—Deliberations in the Senate—Senator Perkins' Statements.

Washington, Aug. 3.—In the house today Mr. Kilgore objected to the approval of the journal in the absence of a quorum and the roll was called, showing 180 members present. The journal was then approved. Mr. Holman moved to adjourn, but being appealed to by several members, withdrew his motion.

Several telegrams from absent members were read at the desk and the following were excused for illness: Messrs. Layton, (Ohio), Hopkins, (Pa.) Cogswell, (Mass.) and Morse, (Mass).

Mr. Simpson, of Kansas, referred to a speech made by Senator Perkins last Saturday in which the latter criticised him (Simpson) for making public a letter regarding the cattlemen on the Cherokee strip, written by Henry S. Landis, of Medicine Lodge, Ks.

Mr. Simpson stated that he had no improper motive in publishing the letter, and he denied the imputation made by Senator Perkins. Several members thought the gentleman from Kansas should not be allowed to notice anything which occurred in the senate, but Mr. Simpson was allowed to make the above statement.

The regular order was demanded and the speaker stated the pending motion was that of Mr. Bingham to lay Mr. Holman's motion, to reconsider the vote by which the senate amendment to the world's fair clause was concurred in, on the table. Mr. Bailey, of Texas, moved a recess until 2 o'clock. Lost.

Seeing that it was impossible to make any progress, and after several roll calls, at 12:50, the house adjourned until to-morrow.

In the Senate.

Washington, Aug. 3.—A very singular little discussion was started in the senate during the morning hour. It originated with Mr. Pettigrew, who offered a resolution requiring the secretary of war to report the names of all officers of the army tried by courtmartial in the last ten years, the rank of the officers, the offense charged, and the punishment imposed.

Mr. Call, Mr. Bate, Mr. Hawley, chairman of the committee on military affairs; Mr. Manderson, and Mr. Palmer, all rose to oppose the passage of any such resolution.

Mr. Call said it might be interesting in a statistical point of view, to have a list of all the men who had been hanged in the last fifty years, but it might inflict great injury upon many innocent families.

Mr. Hawley remarked that he saw no motive except hostility to the army in seeking thus to perpetuate a list of disgraceful crimes. The army had shown itself as good a body of men as could be found anywhere in the world. There had not been as many bad men among them as among the disciples—one in twelve. He moved to refer the matter to the committee on military affairs.

Mr. Pettigrew said there seemed to him no good reason why the search light of publicity should not be turned on these facts. The people wanted to know them.

Mr. Davis supported Mr. Pettigrew. He said his service on the military committee had impressed him with the idea that such a compilation of facts in a concise form might have an important bearing upon army reforms.

Mr. Proctor said if such an inquiry were entered upon it ought to be broader and to include officers of the navy, officers of the interior department, such as Indian agents and postmasters and the like.

The vice president put Mr. Hawley's motion to refer the resolution to the military committee, and on a vive voce declared the ayes had it.

Mr. Pettigrew (notwithstanding the fact that there was no quorum present) demanded the yeas and nays. "Oh, very well," said Mr. Hawley, with some apparent irritation, "if the senator persists in punishing us also, I withdraw my motion."

Mr. Manderson, however, renewed the motion to refer to the committee on military affairs, and the vice president once more on a vive voce vote declared the motion carried.

Mr. Pettigrew again demanded the yeas and nays.

"Is there a second?" the vice-president asked, and as only Mr. Pettigrew and Mr. Davis held up their hands, he added: "Only two senators being in favor of calling the roll, the roll call is not ordered. The motion to refer the resolution is carried."

Mr. Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, stating that all copies of the pending sundry civil bill had been exhausted, obtained permission to reprint the bill showing only those amendments still remaining in dispute between the two houses.

Mr. Call, finding no business before the senate, the house having already adjourned, called up a resolution of his offered on the 12th of May last, providing for a special committee of three senators and four members of the house to inquire into the condition of Cuba, the Antilles, the Bahamas and Windward islands, as to their commercial, military and political relation to the people of the United States, and to report to congress such legislation as might be necessary to improve such relations.

Mr. Sherman, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, said he regarded this proposed inquiry as going far beyond the constitutional powers of congress. Suppose some European government should say that Utah was in a disturbed state and institute an inquiry as to what was the condition of Utah, its laws, etc.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

Child Found Murdered in Liverpool.

London, Aug. 3.—A mysterious murder came to light to-day in Liverpool. A child named Ann Concannon, aged 3 years and 4 months, was found dead, head downwards, in a closet, in one of the slum districts of Liverpool.

The shoes which the child had worn and a part of her clothing were missing. The child had evidently been murdered. When last seen the child was in the company of an unknown woman who, it is believed, decoyed her away and took her life for the sake of being able to rob the little one.

The police are investigating and are already on the trail of a woman supposed to be the guilty person.

BIG BATTLESHIP.

London, Aug. 3.—The new second class battleship Centurion was launched at Portsmouth to-day in the presence of a great throng of spectators. The Centurion is of 10,500 tons, estimated speed from 18 to 18 1-2 knots, with forced draught, 17 knots with natural draught. She is a sister ship of the Barfleur.

SAM SMALL BEATEN.

Atlanta, Ga., August 3.—The people's party convention of the Fifth district nominated S. M. Talyaferro of Fulton county, for congress.

Sam Small, who also had received the prohibition nomination, was an active candidate before the convention, being beaten by three-quarters of a vote.

ANOTHER CRANK.

He is Under Arrest for Attempting Blackmail.

New York, Aug. 3.—Albert de Laurens, a Swiss who claims to have hailed last from Chicago, is locked up at police headquarters, this city, charged with attempting to blackmail New York firms on the threat of blowing them up with dynamite.

Since July 22 last, when a man sent a threatening letter to General Manager R. M. Hyde, of Tiffany & Co., the police have searched for him.

A few days ago a representative of the banking house of Baring, Wagoner & Co., Wall street, called at police headquarters with a letter from the same person. This letter asked for $20 with which to go west. "If you refuse," he writes, "I will come to your office or to the private residence of some of you and blow you up with dynamite. Remember what happened to Russell Sage. You may not be so lucky as he has been. I know it is wrong, but misery and hunger don't listen to reason."

He was arrested Sunday night in the Brooklyn postoffice and brought to New York. He claims Geneva, Switzerland, as his native place. Five years ago he came to this country and worked in Chicago as a machinist in the shops of the Chicago & New York railroad company. Three weeks ago he came here and had been since living in cheap lodging houses.

PREPARING FOR ACTION.

Minnesota Democrats Meet in Convention.

An Interesting Time Promised by the Followers of the Low Tax Banners.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 3.—The state convention of the democratic party of Minnesota was called to order this morning by Chairman W. M. Campbell of the state central committee, and by the time the convention has finished its work there will be five more or less complete tickets in the field, and the prohibitionists the only party not looking for a fusion with some one of its rivals.

Early in the campaign the alliance men tried to strike up some kind of a deker with the people's party, but the third party convention snubbed the alliance committee, and nominated Ignatius Donnelly for governor.

Donnelly being decidedly persona non grata to the alliance, this was adding insult to injury, and the farmers are now moving heaven and earth to find some means whereby they can knock out the people's party. Following out this idea the alliance leaders began to make overtures to the democrats.

The rump convention of the alliance held on the 7th of July nominated James H. Baker for governor, but they have left the remainder of the ticket open in order to give the democrats an opportunity to say who they would support if nominated.

But although the alliance state central committee, to whom was delegated power to fill out the ticket, has held several meetings the democrats have not favored them with a suggestion, and they have adjourned from day to day without accomplishing anything.

At their last meeting, which was held yesterday, it is thought that a proposition was formulated which will be brought before the convention either this afternoon or to-morrow morning before the nominations are made.

The chances are, however, that the democrats will act as independently of the alliance as the populists did, and will prefer to make their nominations to suit themselves, rather than risk any dissatisfaction in the party ranks for the sake of the few votes controlled by the alliance.

The situation has been so uncertain during the past month while the county conventions were being held that few of the delegates are instructed, and the only estimates of the strength of the different candidates are based upon the straw canvasses that have been made since the delegates arrived in the city.

Mayor Winston has so far made the strongest showing for the governorship, but Joe Roach of Northfield; W. M. Campbell, chairman of the state central committee; Dan Lawler, St. Paul's silver-tongued orator, and Daniel Buck of Mankato, who was nominated for judge of the supreme court by the people's party, all have a fighting chance.

As for a fusion between the democrats and people's party there is every indication that some kind of an agreement will be arrived at, notwithstanding that the alliance men have been sweating blood to make a combine with the democrats by which their united forces could be brought to bear against the third party and republicans, both of which are now about equally hated by the Minnesota alliance.

FIFTY THOUSAND DEAD.

Terrible Ravages of the Cholera in Russia.

Petersburg correspondent learns that over fifty thousand persons died of cholera in Russian Caucasus in July. These figures do not include the deaths from cholera in Asiatic Russia.

A TRUST IN TRUNKS.

A New Combination Representing $2,500,000 Capital.

Chicago, August 3.—The newest thing in the way of trust is a combination among trunk men. It has just leaked out that recently the National Trunk Company held a quiet meeting in Chicago and increased its capital stock from $200,000 to $2,500,000. There was no noise attendant on these changes. The company did not get out and shoot fireworks in celebration of their work, but they organized all the same. They were P. Becker & Sons, of Chicago; Adelsbach & Eicarpels, of Milwaukee; P. C. Murphy, of St. Louis; Schmit Bros., of Oshkosh; Meyer & Schucknecht, of Detroit; and Chilton & Guthrie, of Louisville.

When they had completed their work they went to their several homes. They do not comprise even a majority of western manufacturers, but it is said that others will be gradually absorbed. Meanwhile they will do very well with a working capital of $2,500,000.

COL. JOHN A. RICE,

A Well-known Man, Dies at the Age of Fifty.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 3.—Col John A. Rice, vice president of the national board of trade, member of the commission for revising the state tax laws, and of the commission to prevent anthracite culm waste, died at his home here last night at midnight, aged 50 years.

Deceased was born in Irvington, N. J., and graduated at Brown university. He was for a long time president of the Scranton board of trade and interested in many enterprises.

Among his greatest achievements was his promotion of the Unification of all commercial laws and the introduction of the private indebtedness clause into the recent census.

He was also the organizer of the movement to make permanent the census department as a basis of representation. He was connected with many of the leading scientific and mechanical societies of the country.

NO EVIDENCE TO HOLD HIM.

Frederick Molleck, the Long Branch Anarchist is Discharged.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 3.—Frederick Molleck, who was arrested at Long Branch, as an accessory of Bergman, the would-be assassin of H. C. Frick, was given a hearing before Judge Gripp, and, as there was no evidence to hold him, he was discharged from custody.

ON THE OTHER HAND

Warrants Issued for the Carnegie Agents,

Charging Them With the Murder of Three Men.

Hugh Ross, a Liberated Striker, Makes Information Against Thirteen Men.

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—Hugh Ross, who was one of the men accused by Secretary Lovejoy of murder and riot at Homestead, and who is now out on bail, has just made information before Alderman King, of the South Side, Pittsburg, charging H. C. Frick, T. F. Lovejoy, Robert Pinkerton, Wm. Pinkerton, J. A. Potter, G. A. Carey, J. G. A. Leishman, H. M. Curry, C. W. Bellil, Fred Palmer, W. H. Burt, John Cooper and F. W. Hinde, of the murder of John E. Morris, George W. Rutter, Silas Wayne and Joseph Sotax.

The fiv elast named of the accused are Pinkerton detectives. Robert and William Pinkerton are the heads of the Pinkerton bureau. The others are Carnegie officials.

The names of Nevin McConnell and James Dovey, Pinkerton detectives, have been added to the list against whom Hugh Ross made information this morning.

H. C. Frick will not be arrested while he is confined to his home, but the warrant will be served upon him as soon as he appears on the street. The others with the exception of William Pinkerton, who is in Chicago, and Robert Pinkerton, who is in New York, will likely be arrested soon. The five detectives are still in the city.

At 2:30 Secretary Lovejoy, Leishman and Curry, of the Carnegie company, proceeded to the court house and presented themselves to Judge Ewing, asking to be admitted to bail. The court is now hearing the case. No warrants have been served on either of them up to this time. A Homestead special says that Yardmaster Dovey has just been arrested by Constable Stewart on the charge of murder.

CONFLICT IMMINENT.

Relations Strained Between Soldiers and Miners at Coal Creek.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 3.—Affairs at Coal Creek, the scene of last winter's miners' troubles, are not by any means in a very encouraging condition.

It seems the miners are growing restless under the continued presence of troops and their enforced subjection, and find many sympathizers among the mountaineers.

Numerous outrages have been committed of late on soldiers sent out singly, and the situation has become so strained that it has been deemed advisable to increase the force of guards.

So last night thirty more recruits, who had been advertised for, were sent out from Knoxville.

Most of these were members of local military companies. Commandant Anderson is authority for the statement that a conflict between soldiers and miners is imminent.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Bow Street Police Court Has a Sensational Case.

London, Aug. 3.—At Bow street to-day Margaret Smith, a teacher, and four others were committed for trial on the charge of having conspired to defraud the estate of the late John Cornelius Park.

They were charged with forging a deed and with conspiring to obtain twenty thousand pounds.

The deed purported to be an agreement between the late Mr. Park and Margaret Smith, wherein it was set forth that the former wished his son to marry Smith, who, if his son consented to this arrangement, was to have thirty thousand pounds and if not twenty thousand pounds.

When Mr. Park died and the son refused to marry her, saying he knew nothing about her, Smith claimed twenty thousand pounds from the executors. Justice Romer dismissed the charge. The prisoners put in no substantial defense.

WALL PAPER TRUST.

Two Hundred Million Dollars Tied Up in One Concern.

New York Aug. 3.—According to the statement of Samuel Untermeyer, of the law firm of Guggenheimer & Untermeyer, of 46 Wall street, a wall paper combination or trust was perfected late yesterday afternoon.

It is said that fully forty of the leading manufacturers of the country are interested and the value of the property involved in the deal is said to exceed $200,000,000. The promoters deny that the affair is a "trust." Mr. Untermeyer says the purpose of the move is o reduce expenses, not to increase prices.

Among the firms mentioned as belonging to the trust are the Adams & Bishop company and Warren Fuller & Co., of this city.

WAS READY FOR HIM.

A Would-be Highwayman Given a Warm Reception.

Virginia City, Nev., Aug. 3.—A masked highwayman attempted to stop Superintendent James H. Kinkead, of the Occidental mine, yesterday afternoon. Kinkead had $10,000 in gold to pay off the employes of the mine. He was in a buggy with another man driving and carried a shotgun charged with buckshot.

The robber stepped from the bushes at a turn in the road near the mines and Kinkead gave him both barrels, hitting him in the right arm and shoulder.

The robber ran and Kinkead, pursuing, caught him after half a mile run and brought him to town in his buggy. The robber was identified as Wm. Husd, an employe of the Occidental mine.

REPUBLICANS OF N. D.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 3.—The remainder of the ticket nominated by the republican state convention is as follows: Lieut. governor, R. H. Hankinson, Highland county; secretary of state, C. M. Dall, Burleigh county; auditor, Mr. Walker, Barnes county; treasurer, L. E. Booker, Pembina county; superintendent of public instruction, M. Devine; commissioner of agriculture, D. H. McMillan; attorney general, P. H. Bourke, Ransom county.

OCEAN RACERS.

New York, Aug. 3.—The White Star steamer Teutonic, from Liverpool July 27 and Queenstown July 28, reached here this morning, making the run in five days, eighteen hours and forty-six minutes. Her best previous record, made in August, 1891, was five days, sixteen hours and thirty-one minutes.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—Senator Stanford's stallion Sport, eight years old, record 2:22 3-4, died of pneumonia and inflammation of the bowels. The disease at Palo Alto seems to be epidemic and many of the horses are coughing. Bad water is supposed to be the cause. Nearly all the thoroughbreds at Palo Alto have been turned out on account of the disease. The Hobart stock farm and San Jose stables have also suffered severely and the great stallion Stamboul has been taken to Stockton to prevent his taking the disease. Sport is said to have been the most beautiful horse ever bred at Palo Alto. His sire was Piedmont and dam Soutag Mohawk, and he could not have been purchased for $20,000.

AGONIZING ECZEMA.

Awful Suffering. Driven Almost Insane by Doctors. Tried Cuticura. Relief Immediate. Entirely Cured in 4 Months.

I suffered with the dreadful eczema for over six months, during which time I had consulted three doctors, and this tormenting skin disease had grown worse and worse on me in spite of all medical treatment. My condition was unbearable. My legs were swollen, my arms were raw, my face and neck full of eruption, which made me scratch until my whiskers were soaked and pasted with the sickly fluid. I could hardly bear my clothing. When night came I was afraid to go to bed, no sleep would come to relieve me, but the itching would increase. During day time I had no rest, I was all broken up, nervous to the highest degree, and nearly driven to despair. At that time I read about the CUTICURA REMEDIES, intended to try them, and dropped the doctors. After applying CUTICURA I had the first night's rest for several weeks. Using the CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, with proper judgment, my condition improved slowly but surely day by day, until after three to four months' use of them I was cured. Our minister, Rev. J. G. Perrault, in Mandan, knows me and knows how I suffered. Any one may write to him and he will certify to the truth of this testimonial.

E. R. STEINBRUECK,
Mandan, North Dakota.

Certificates of nomination for electors should be made out by the president and secretary of each congressional convention and forwarded to the secretary of state. Up to date there has been but one such certificate made out and filed at Columbus. This matter should not be neglected.

COLONEL STREATOR ARRESTED,

Charged with Aggravated Assault Upon Private Iams—Released on Bail.

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—Lieut.-Col. Streator was arrested at his home in Washington, Pa., yesterday, on the charge of aggravated assault and battery, preferred by Private Iams. Colonel Streator went before 'Squire Ruple and waived a hearing for appearance at the September term of court in Pittsburg. He gave bail in the sum of $500 on each charge and was released. Col. Hawkins was not arrested, as he is still on duty at Homestead.

REMEMBER THAT

Up in the northern lakes lies the fairy Isle of Mackinac, which, on account of its great natural beauties and remarkable summer climate, has been reserved by the United States government as a national park. It lies in the midst of some of the most charming scenery and some of the finest fishing and hunting grounds in the country. The Michigan Central, which is the direct route to this elysium, has just published a profusely illustrated book descriptive of this region, which will be sent to any address upon application to Wm. J. Schwerth, Southern Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, Ohio.

There are politicians living and speaking to-day whose jawbones will be found in the bowels of the earth one thousand years hence and mounted in great public parks as the bones of prehistoric mastodons.

THE SUGAR TRUST.

Philadelphia People Were Not in It.

So Says the Answers Filed in the U. S. Circuit Court of the Above City.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—The position taken by the Philadelphia Sugar refineries and sundry individuals in the recent sugar trust deal was more fully defined by numerous answers filed in the United States Circuit court to the suit brought for the government by District Attorney Ellery P. Ingham, to have the consolidation declared illegal.

The answer of the E. C. Knight company admits that John E. Searles, jr., did enter into a contract with stockholders to take the stock of the company, and that they joined in said contract in case the purchasers should take a conveyance of the refinery, machinery, real estate, etc.

Continuing, the answer says: "As it was subsequently determined by him that he would not take such conveyance, but that he would take an assignment of the shares of stock from the owners thereof, the consummation of the contract was one in which we did not participate. The transaction eventuated in a sale by the owners of our capital stock of their shares thereof.

"We deny that we ever entered any concern, collusion, or combination of any sort or kind with any parties to do any of the acts set forth in the bill. We joined in the contract of sale because we were conditionally offered a fair price for our refinery, machinery, and real estate, and for no other reason and with no other purpose. We aver that our said contract was not within the provisions of the act of congress of July 2, 1890; that it did not concern congress, and that it is not within the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States.

"We deny that we agreed to make sale of our property for the purpose of giving complete control of the price of refined sugar in the United States to the American Sugar Refining company or to any other person. Our agreement to sell was made solely for the reasons we have stated viz., to sell our refinery, real estate, machinery, etc., for a satisfactory price and with the intent to obtain such price, allied with no other intent. The contract we made, as we have said, was never consummated, because the purchaser took from our stockholders their shares of stock and did not buy our refinery, real estate, etc.

"We pray that these suits be dismissed with our reasonable costs, in this respect most wrongfully sustained, and we pray that we may be entitled to the same benefit of exceptions of law to which we would have been entitled if we had plead in bar, or had demurred to this bill or to any part thereof."

The other answers were similar in tenor.

NEWS FROM COLUMBUS.

Senator Ryan to Settle for Canal Lands.

Meeting of the Ohio Republican League of Clubs—Notes from the Penitentiary.

Columbus, O., Aug. 3.—The penitentiary physician, Dr. Rowles, and Warden James have recommended Charles Martin, a Cuyahoga county convict, for pardon. Martin has consumption and cannot live long. He was sent up November 13, 1890, on a four years' sentence for grand larceny.

Alexander Hobbs, sent up from here on a seven years' sentence for shooting to kill, was incarcerated to-day for violating the parole rules. He was paroled December 6, 1889.

Charles Wilson, colored, from Lucas county, was injured while throwing a belt. His leg may have to be amputated.

A most remarkable criminal, "Bernie" Noble, of Clermont county, is to be released from the penitentiary to-day. He has served four sentences without receiving good time, for he violated the prison rules more than other convict. His first sentence was in 1866, eighteen months, for having in his possession stolen goods. Next he got ten years for assault upon his wife's sister; then ten years and three years for two similar crimes. Noble has been punished in every conceivable way down to a bath in ice water.

Daniel Hartnett, member of the state canal commission, has just returned from Toledo, where he discovered ninety-three acres of canal lands that are being occupied by private parties.

The land is in Providence township, Lucas couty, and is held by ex-State Senator John Ryan. Mr. Hartnett found Senator Ryan, who was perfectly willing to settle with the state. Senator Ryan admits that is not altogether an innocent holder. Originally his faher bought the farm from the government, but afterwards the money he paid for it was returned with the information that the land had been appropriated for canal purposes. Senator Ryan's father, however, had just taken possession of the land and he did not move off. The senator admits that he knew well enough the condition of his tenure, but as most men do he preferred to let the state raise the question. There will be an amicable adjustment.

The application last week to Governor McKinley for a requisition to extradite John Ladd to Michigan on the charge of larceny, develops that not for larceny was the man wanted, but to prosecute him for a charge not extraditable, namely, infidelity. The requsition clerk refused to honor the papers and telegraphed Sheriff Pollock at Defiance of such action. The sheriff immediately upon Ladd's release caused his arrest and had him bound over for twelve days longer in order to await Governer McKinley's return from the west. Attorneys Chester and Swartz, of this city, have been retained to fight the requisition and Ladd will hardly to back. The larceny consisted in his drawing $2,000 from the bank, of which $200 was claimed by his wife. Ladd is now foreman of the Republican Express, of Defiance.

A meeting of the organization committee of the Ohio Republican League has been called for Friday night to map out work of the league for the campaign. The meeting will be held in the league quarters on State street. Those expected to be present are: President W. I. Squire, Toledo; Secretary W. J. McDonald, Columbus; Judge H. F. Burkett, Findlay; H. W. Gardner, Cincinnati; W. E. Sefton, Canton; C. J. Manix, Cleveland; Secretary of State Poorman.

Alliance May Get It.

Superintendent A. B. Richardson, of the Central Insane Asylum, one of the committee also upon locating the Eastern Asylum, has returned after viewing forty proposed sites. He considers that Alliance stands the best chance for the new institution.

Runaway Soldier Captured.

Albert B. Merrit, who deserted from the barracks yesterday, after committing a number of forgeries, was captured in a dive here to-day. He had on his person a forged check of $50 with the name of First Lieutenant Charles G. Starr, First Infantry, attached. He will be tried for desertion and forgery.

WEST FULTON ITEMS.

West Fulton, O., Aug. 3.—(Special)—Farmers very busy. Wheat here about is yielding well. Corn in this locality exceeds expectations and promises to be a very fair crop. Fruit is not likely to be very abundant in this section. General health good.

Dr. G. W. Hartman, of Archbald, is about to move to Wauseon.

George R. Betts, Esq., mayor of Archbald, is ill.

J. F. Rogers, Esq., for 50 years a leading citizen of West Fulton, is on the sick list.

G. A. R.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The following Ohio posts of the Grand Army of the Republic have applied for quarters during the encampment here next month: Canton post, 200 men; Sherwin post, Westboro, 25 men. Quarters have been assigned to Bailey post, of Portsmouth, and George Collins post, of Manchester.

TWENTY-EIGHT BALLOTS.

J. B. Pomerene, of Coshocton, nominated for Judge.

Zanesville, O., Aug. 3.—The democratic convention to nominate a circuit judge for the Fifth judicial district was called to order at 1:30 yesterday afternoon. J. B. Jones, of Licking, was made permanent chairman, and Hon. C. M. Gaumer, of Richland, and William Piero, of Stark, permanent secretaries. Wilkin, of Tuscarawas, led on the first ballot, and maintained it for 27 ballots. J. B. Pomerene, of Coshocton, gained steadily from the start, and was nominated on the 28th ballot, receiving 68 votes to 46 for Wilkin and 13 for Critchfield.

A 3-year-old son of Frank Hines, of Marietta street, this afternoon ran in front of a dray driven by William Downs and was run over and killed.

J. E. Butler, a young man of good family, was found guilty of forging Jacob Johnson's name to a not for $200. The jury was out only a few minutes.

PIONEER NOTES.

Pioneer, O., Aug. 3.—(Special)—Prof. Frank Smith gave his lecture in the auditorium of the M. E. church Sunday night, on "Ruts." The house was full and the lecturer very highly spoken of. Mr. Smith and family will go to Elmore, O., this week, where he has been retained as principal of the schools for next year.

The United Brethren held quarterly meeting in their church Saturday and Sunday night, taking up their Sunday night service for Prof. Smith's lecture. Rev. Kreible, of Montpelier, presided.

Rev. Smith of the U. B. church will speak on temperance next Sunday evening.

The Ohio Building Association League

Meets at Cleveland Wednesday Next—Arrangements for Their Entertainment—Toledo to be Well Represented.

E. R. Hiett, of this city, secretary of the Ohio Building Association league, has issued notice that the fourth annual meeting of the league will be held at the Hollenden hotel, Cleveland, commencing Wednesday, August 10, at 11 a. m.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held at 10 o'clock. The committee on credentials and a committee to list the names of all persons present who have certificates for reduced return fares, will be in session from 10:30 a. m. to 12 m. and from 2 p. m. to 2:30 p. m.

Through the efforts of the Cleveland building association people and the liberality of the Holland management a special rate of $2.50 per day has been arranged. This hotel will be the league headquarters.

The visitors will be highly entertained. The program has not been fully arranged, but there will be an address of welcome by Hon. Wm. G. Rose, mayor of Cleveland; the annual address by A. A. Winters, of Dayton, president of the league; James H. Paine, of Cleveland, and Hon. Gabriel Derr, of Cincinnati.

The league will discuss building association methods, objectional legislation, needed legislation powers under the present law, etc.

A trip to Put-in-Bay and Hotel Victory has also been arranged.

The Central Traffic association has granted a reduced rate of one and one-third fares for the round trip from all points in Ohio.

Nearly all the Toledo associations are members of the league and will send representatives.

An effort will be made to bring the league to Toledo for its next meeting. The Future Great almost secured the meeting last year, but on this occasion there is no such a word as fail. The league must come to Toledo. The delegates will be royally greeted and entertained.

WILL HAVE RAPID TRANSIT.

Tiffin, O., Aug. 3.—The indications are that Tiffin will be well supplied with electric street railways within the next year. Three companies now have applications pending for franchises covering the principal streets of the city and leading to all the suburbs, including a line to Fostoria.

Extensive Scheme Unearthed in Chicago.

The Flight of George Bartels Has Caused the Truth in the Case to Come Out.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—The flight of George Bartels, paying teller of the Central Trust and Savings bank, with the comparatively insignificant sum of $3,000 of the bank's cash, has unearthed what seems to have been an extensive conspiracy to defraud five Chicago banks.

The scheme was partly successful, and over $50,000 was secured from Bartels' former employers, but has since been made good. Another bank is said to have lost $20,000, which amount was also made good.

Three men formerly connected with the Chicago Bank Note company have been arrested charged with conspiracy to defraud and the issuance of fraudulent paper.

These are William A. Forbes, N. W. Burnside, and Charles M. Anson. Bartels was the fourth man wanted.

The preliminary hearing is set for Thursday. Charles Nichols, a go-between, has made affidavit which purports to expose the whole scheme.

A bill in chancery asking for the appointment of a receiver for the bank note concern, filed by John B. Gribles, formerly president of the company, also throws light upon the methods used.

Forbes was manager of the Chicago Bank Note company; Burnside, a son of a well-known physician, was associated with Forbes. Anson was but an employe of the firm. These young men were vouched for by General Allen C. Fuller and numerous men of wealth and financial influence, who appear to have trusted them fully, owing to their connection with young Burnside.

They opened accounts with the Central Trust and Savings bank, the Globe National bank, the State Bank of Chicago, the First National bank, and the Milwaukee Avenue State bank. Immediately they deposited checks, drafts, etc., which it is claimed have since been found to be fraudulent and later drew out the cash.

By collusion with Bartels, the great run of the paper was dumped on the Central Trust and Savings bank. The teller, in the absence of the cashier, certified all paper and the forged drafts, checks, etc., were only deposited when the higher officials of the bank were out.

It is said that the plotters intended to pull all the banks they had deposited money with into their net and then break up and clear out, but the paper came to protest too soon.

According to Nichols' affidavit, the conspirators systematically wined, dined, and clothed Bartels, besides paying the expenses of the teller and his friends nightly at houses of ill fame. Bartels disarmed suspicion by ingeniously warning the bank officials that he was suspicious the note company was "kiting," and suggested that a general guarantee of all transactions be secured from wealthy Dr. Burnside.

828 Huron St., Toledo, O., July 17, '92.
Hand Medicine Co., Gentlemen:

My baby is now three months old and has had colic all her life. We gave her all kinds of remedies without any beneficial effect. I was almost discouraged in trying anything else when a friend told me of your Dr. Hand's Colic cure. I gave her 12 drops which acted like a charm. Now as soon as I discover she has wind colic I give her one or two doses which relieves her entirely. I want to advise all mothers who have fretful babies to use Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. I will hereafter always keep it in the house.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The inquest in the case of Augustus Redding, who was killed by a burglar, has been continued until to-morrow.

A pocket book was found on Monroe street, between St. Clair and Summit, this morning, and awaits the owner at the police station.

A copy of the Ft. Wayne Daily Gazette comes to the Bee with a glowing account of the trip to Put-in-Bay taken by Ft. Wayne newspaper men. They were more than pleased with the trip and compliment highly the City of Toledo and the management.

While Charles Wilson was trying to throw a belt with a pitchfork handle the handle caught in the wheel and the blunt end was driven into his thigh. He was taken to the hospital just at sick-call and at sight of the blood three convicts fainted and fell on the floor. Wilson was received from Toledo June 13, 1892, on a three years' sentence for robbery.—Columbus Journal.

The Sells & Rentfrow circus is in town to-day and will give two performances at the corner of Monroe and Fourteenth streets. The show is first-class throughout. There is a large company of riders, tumblers, clowns, bicycle riders, wire performers, and no one will be disappointed if they attend.

DEATH OF AN OLD LADY.

Mrs. Bridget Coakley Called Home at the Age of 85 Years.

Bridget Coakley, at the age of 85 years, died at her home on Broomfield street yesterday. She had been a resident of Toledo for 23 years and was born in Kerry, Ireland. She leaves two sons, one of them Patrolman Coakley, the other Patrick. She will be buried Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the Immaculate Conception church.

TWO BAD EGGS

Are Turned Over to the Mercies of the Grand Jury.

Ed Hawkins and George Glasgow, the two men who held a man up on the Broadway bridge and took ten cents from him, all he had, were arraigned in police court this morning. It was found that they were the persons who held up Mr. Weaver on St. Clair street and took 75 cents from him a few nights ago. They were bound over to the common pleas court, and bail was fixed at $500 each.

ENJOYING VENICE.

The Secor Party Enjoying Their European Trip.

The following cablegram from Mr. James Secor and party was received at the Union Savings bank this morning:

"All well and enjoying Venice. We have visited the caves which were illuminated by electric light. It was a fine sight."

There are about a dozen in the Toledo party, and private letters say all are having a good time.

MERRILL, RING & CO.,

Negotiating for the Whitney & Tracy Lumber Yards.

Merrill, Ring & Co., the Saginaw lumber men, are having a hard time in securing a suitable location for the proposed big lumber yard.

They want about 30 acres on the East Side towards the lake, but have been unable to secure a site.

They are now negotiating for the leasing of Whitney & Tracy's lumber yard on the East Side. The tract, however, is hardly large enough, but an attempt is being made to secure a tract adjoining. In the event of success the Saginaw will have one of the largest and best lumber yards in the city.

IN DARKEST TOLEDO.

The Police Commissioners Will Run Through It To-night.

The regular meeting of the police board will be held this evening. The charges against Detective Hall will come up for discussion, and some definite action will be taken. One of the commissioners gave it out this morning that certain members of the board would do a little slumming on the quiet to-night, to prove that no such a thing as vice prevails in the city, under a republican administration of police affairs. No doubt these seekers of wickedness will be able to make a satisfactory report, inasmuch as the precaution has been taken to warn the evil doers of the intended investigation.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

People's Party Club Will Meet To-morrow Evening.

The People's Party club will meet to-morrow evening at Rensch's hall. There will be speeches by local talent, and efforts made to increase the membership of the club and party in Toledo.

The ladies of the Eleventh Street Church of Christ are holding a meeting at the church this afternoon.

The Union of Unions will meet at the Central Congregational church to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30, instead of at Auburndale as announced.

Lincoln W. C. T. U. is holding a meeting at the hall on Western avenue this afternoon.

Tickets will shortly be put on sale for the Political Equality club's lecture course.

The Home Aid association met at Odd Fellows Temple last evening and instituted one new member. The attendance was large. There is no society in the city that keeps up its interest and attendance during the summer months as does this one.

Toledo Lodge, No. 402, held a meeting last night at Odd Fellows Temple. The interest of the meeting centered on the Children's Home project. The executive committee have been working hard, and at a meeting of the full committee this evening will make their report. They have options on several pieces of desirable property between Toledo and the Lucas county children's home, but whether they will conclude to purchase is not yet decided. It is likely some definite action will be taken at the meeting to-night.

ELECTRIC LIGHT FIXTURES

Being Put in At the Postoffice—The Work is Slow.

The Southern Electric Light company, of Baltimore, to whom the contract was let, are now at work on the plant for lighting the postoffice building with electric lights. It will take about two months, owing to the necessity for drilling through the walls, which were made very thick to render them fireproof. There will be about 460 lights. The signal office will be the only one in the United States lighted by electric lights.

IT IS A GO.

Toledo a Member of the National Clearing House Organization.

Mr. T. C. Stevens, of the Merchants' National bank, returned from Detroit last evening, where he met Mr. F. W. Hayes, Vice President of the Preston National bank, with reference to the admission of Toledo in the national organization of clearing houses.

Mr. Stevens has assurance that Toledo will be admitted and that soon.

This move, if successful, and it will be, means much for Toledo. Many cities not one-half as important in point of population and wealth as Toledo belongs to the organization.

OTTAWA COUNTY OFFICIALS

Want Lucas to Take Care of an Infirmary Charge.

The infirmary directors this morning received a letter from the infirmary board of Ottawa county stating that a girl named Louisa Reddecker had been injured in an explosion of gasoline while working in the family of Charles Schissler, near Genoa, and had been a charge on that county ever since. The communication further stated that Miss Reddecker was a resident of Lucas county and requested that this board take some action in the matter. Mr. Baumbach will go to Oak Harbor to-morrow and investigate.

UNION MEETINGS.

The Salesmen are Making Preparations for Their Excursion.

The Salesmen's association met at Elks hall last night, but transacted no business except furthering arrangements for the excursion to be given August 14.

International Association of Machinists meet at Turley's hall this evening.

Plumbers meet at Carpenters hall to-morrow night.

Carpenters' union, No. 25, meets to-night at Clarke's hall.

The Metal Polishers will hold fortnightly meetings during the rest of the summer.

The regular meeting of the members of the Builders' Exchange occurs this evening.

RATIFICATION MEETING

To Be Held at Memorial Hall To-Morrow Night.

The democratic ratification meeting which was postponed last week will be held at Memorial hall to-morrow night, and it is to be hoped that at least the democrats of the city will show enough interest for the cause to fill the hall. The speaker of the evening, Hon. Frank H. Hurd, will deliver an address on "Protection and Wages," a subject which is peculiarly appropriate during the present campaign. The address will be one that the people of Toledo cannot afford to miss. Turn out and make the meeting a rouser.

WITHDREW FROM THE FIGHT.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 3.—The state executive committee of the Farmers' alliance met this morning and decided to withdraw its state electoral ticket from the state political contest.

They will therefore have no ticket in the field at the fall election and it is expected by republicans that their strength will go to Nelson for governor and Harrison for president. The committee decided to retain the organization of its state central committee.

PARK PROPERTY.

More Purchases Made by the Commissioners.

Fifteen Acres Adjoining the Up-River Park and the Seventy Acres Known as the Collins Tract.

The Board of Park Commissioners yesterday closed the negotiations for the purchase of the Jasper P. Collins tract of 70 acres, or what is known as part of the southeast quarter of section 22, town 9, south range 7 east, located in Washington township. It is bounded on one side by Ten Mile creek, and is otherwise naturally located. The consideration was $25,000.

The purchase of the 15 acres adjoining the present Riverside park, on Broadway, has also been consummated. The property is known as lot 11 Comstock's subdivision river tracts 12-13, town 3, U. S. R., and was owned by A. J. Secor and others. The price agreed upon is $15,000.

The deeds for these tracts, as well as that for the Ketcham farm, were filed for record with the county recorder this afternoon.

Darius Tracy left this morning for Put-in-Bay from which place he will go to Cleveland, where he will spend a week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wheeler, of Oklahoma City, are visiting relatives in the city. Mrs. Wheeler is a sister of Dr. F. A. Todd.

Mrs. L. H. Vosburgh, of Fayette, O., who has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Faber, has returned home.

Mrs. J. H. Bardlee, Miss Grace May, and Master J. Warren Bardlee, of Cleveland, O., are visiting Mrs. Fred Birchall and Mrs. Henry Heck.

The Misses Bell, Siegler, and Hall and Messrs. Allie Thomas, Clarence Hall and Ransom Thomas formed a merry party at Gard Island over Sunday.

Mrs. J. L. Parks, Mrs. Will Bourke, and the Misses Maud Parks, Stella Paine, Winnie Schlingman and Lotta Cole will go to Put-in-Bay to-morrow.

The Misses Gertrude Machenheimer and Zoe Wheeler returned from their trip abroad yesterday. They were accompanied home from New York by Mr. Hague.

Mrs. J. B. Stuart, Mrs. Jas. Keith, Mrs. Geo. Horner and Mrs. J. D. Batch will go to Put-in-Bay Thursday to spend several days. Messrs. Stuart, Keith, Horner and Batch will join the party Sunday.

The following prominent gentlemen from the east, connected with similar institutions, are inspecting the asylum cottage system and are Dr. and Mrs. Tobey's guests to-day: H. M. Federhen, Quincy, Mass.; Nicholas Hatheway, Fall River; J. Murphy, Worcester; T. G. Park, Groton.

Mrs. M. M. King, 124 Twenty-second street, will return from Put-in-Bay this evening and will be accompanied by Mrs. James S. Ewing, whose husband is the law partner of Hon. Adlia Stevenson, democratic candidate for the vice presidency. Mrs. Ewing and daughter will be the guest of Mrs. King for a few days.

The marriage of Mr. S. M. Jones, of this city, to Miss Helen Beach, of Toledo, is announced for the 23d of this month. Miss Beach will be remembered as a former organist in the Presbyterian church in this city. It is said Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside in Toledo.—Lima Times.

Mrs. C. M. Dickinson is visiting friends in Sturgis, Mich.

Miss Mary Noteman entertained the J. S. club last evening. The Misses Daisy Duretta and Myrtle Miller favored the company with piano solos. Mr. George Mills' recitations were greatly appreciated, as were also Mr. Jefferson's banjo solos. During the evening dainty refreshments were served. Among the guests were: The Misses Lura Whitney, Ina Oblinger, Daisy Duretta, of Monroe, Sybil Byrkit and Myrtle Miller and Messrs. Percy Oblinger, Geo. Mills, Bert, Whitney, Fred Rakestraw, Will Bishop and J. Jefferson, Mrs. M. C. Moore and Master Ed.

SNAKE BITES.

"It is an old notion," said Superintendent Brown, of the Zoo, "that the bite of a snake is much more deadly when it is shedding its skin than at any other time. It was supposed that there was some mysterious connection between this process and the virulence of the poison. The secret is this: When a snake is shedding it is blind for two or three days, owing to the skin of the head coming forward over the eyes. During this time it cannot strike its prey as it usually does, and, as a result, there is a greater secretion of venom in the poison glands at the base of its fangs and the victim of the attack receives a larger dose than he probably would any other time."

"Whisky is an antidote for snake poison is it not?"

"No, sir. It is a popular fancy, but not a fact," said Mr. Brown. "Whisky is what might be called a bridge used to carry the victim over the dangerous period. The general effect of snake poison is that of a powerful depressor of the nervous system, with reflex action on the heart and respiratory organs. Alcoholic liquor has a contrary effect, and while the poison carries the vital energy below the normal, alcohol brings it back. Too much whisky, as a large number of persons well know, the morning after, has a depressing effect, and if an overdose be administered, the result will be to aggravate and intensify the original trouble. The great danger in the use of whisky in snake bites lies in carrying its effects beyond the stimulating and exciting stage. Quite a number of remedies have been suggested in such emergencies, among them being the hypodermic injection of ammonia, permanganate of potash and jaborandi. Personally, I know nothing of the efficacy of these drugs. While I have frequently been bitten by non-venomous reptiles, I have never felt the fangs of a venomous snake.

"Thus far there has been no antidote discovered for the toxicological effect of reptile venom. Dr. Strandling did a great deal of experimenting with snake poison and claimed to have discovered an antidote. To demonstrate the efficacy of his discovery he allowed himself to be bitten on several occasions, after he had prepared himself, with no serious results. I presume he would have carried his investigations to a successful issue, or ended in killing himself had he not got married. His wife refused to let him continue his experiments and so he abandoned his researches.

"That there is an antidote for the bite of the most venomous snake, there is no doubt. It is possessed by some of the aboriginal people of South America, Africa and portions of the United States. The Zuni Indians of Arizona hold an annual snake dance, at which they not only handle the most poisonous snakes, but hold them in their teeth during a frenzy of excitement. They prepare for this horrible festival by taking an antidote, or rubbing themselves with some vegetable compound. I do not think there has been a single death among the Zuni's recorded from a snake bite during one of these dances. Surgeons in the United States army have endeavored to obtain their secret, but without avail."

"How do you extract the venom of a snake for examination or experiment?" asked Superintendent Brown's visitor.

"Keeper Johnson in the reptile house is quite an expert at that kind of work," answered Mr. Brown. He has a pole about six feet long, with a brass strap passing over one end and through a staple on the other side, and running the full length of the stick. The strap forms a loop, which is passed over the head of the snake and drawn tight. The snake is held firmly by this apparatus until the keeper can reach down and catch him behind the head with his left thumb and forefinger. A slight pressure forces the mouth open, and then a small porcelain cup is pressed against the roof of the reptile's mouth, contracting the glands and forcing the venom to run down the grooved fangs. When a rattler's mouth is closed its poison fangs lie close up against the upper jawbone. By a wonderfully delicate bit of nature's mechanism, when the mouth is opened the fangs are forced down into an erect position, the action at the same time contracting the poison glands and forcing the secretions to flow the instant the reptile strikes at his prey.

"A peculiarity about venomous snakes," continued the keeper, "is their manner of taking food: a rattlesnake or a copperhead will strike its prey, then coil up and wait for it to die. Before commencing to swallow it, they will watch intently for the slightest movement. They swallow it head first, and if there is the slightest muscular movement observable, they will disgorge at once. It is different with the moccasin. It will strike and hold on to to its prey until it is dead."

"What is considered the most venomous snake known to zoologists?"

"It is difficult to say. There is a species of sea serpents found in the Straits of Malacca which is considered to be, I believe, the most deadly in existence. They are known as hydrophidae and vary from eight to twelve feet in length. The cobra di capello of India is an exceedingly venomous snake, but I do not think that its bite is more deadly than that of our rattlesnake or copperhead. One reason why there are so many deaths in India from the bite of the cobra is because the natives are not only reckless, going about with bare feet and legs in the haunts of the reptile, but when once attacked very little, if any, treatment is given to counteract the effects of the poison. The whole question, however, is a relative one, and depends upon the condition of the snake when it made the attack, where the victim was struck, and the subsequent treatment. If the poison fangs penetrate through a boot-leg or a portion of the clothing, some of the venom will be removed. If the fangs strike a portion of the body near where the circulation is active, the result is usually a fatal termination. The bite of a large rattlesnake or copperhead is much more to be dreaded than that of a small one, for the larger the snake the larger the secretion of poison."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Study of "Ads."

A little insight into the domestic life of some people the other side of the sea, is shown by the following advertisements clipped from a late London paper under the head of "Situations Vacant:"

COOK (GOOD PLAIN) WANTED; under 40; wages 28 pounds; all found but beer; good character. Apply by letter to Mrs. Palmer, etc.

COOK (GOOD PLAIN) WANTED; a little housework; stale wages; three servants, two ladies.

HOUSEMAID—The Hon. Mrs. Tennyson strongly recommends a single-handed Housemaid; last situation, three years and nine months; age 22; not London.

HOME REQUIRED for elderly gentleman; plain, but comfortable, with board; separate sitting-room and bed-room; judicious attention; healthful cheerful locality; not in a town; no other lodgers; not in a clergyman's house; inclusive terms, 25s. per week. Address, stating full particulars, L. L., Curzon's, stationers, King's Road, Windsor.

Many of the advertisements for house servants read, "all found but beer." Fancy "beer" being a subject of contract between mistress and maid in this country. Observe that wages per year, are mentioned, and "all found" means clothing and all care, physicians fees or whatever may chance unavoidably, to come in.

Another feature of these columns is this: "A Lady (capital L) wishes to recommend cook, nurse, housemaid," etc., as the case may be. This method might be a good one to adopt, being a splendid recommend for trustworthy help. The American madame would want it said, if the maid was so good, why didn't the "Lady" keep her in employ?

In the advertisement for a home for elderly gentleman—"suite of rooms, good board, judicious attention, cheerful locality, and no other lodgers," all for $6.25 a week—strikes one as calling for considerable for the money. An "ad." of that kind would wait a good while for an answer in Toledo.

These advertisements cost a penny (two cents) a word for the first eighteen words, then seven additional words for sixpence. To one gifted to read between the lines, there is a deal of every day life portrayed in the advertising columns of the newspaper, especially in the "wanted, situation" and "wanted, help" columns.

The Island Tragedy.

We are fond of saying, "There are no more worlds to discover; the ultima thule has been reached," yet, if we had been asked where is the volcano Gunong Aroo situated, how many could have answered, off hand? But Gunong Aroo has just belched forth "fire, smoke and melted lava" and buried ten thousand people in a common grave. Imagine an island, green and garden-like, the warm slopes laughing with vineyard grapes, cocoa palms, nutmeg plantations, tropical verdure and wild flowers, transformed in one brief day into a vast scene of desolation, running rivers of molten fire and buried under smoking white ashes. It is a weird and terrible thing even in our weakest imagining. When will science reach down into the craters of the volcanoes, that sleep hundreds of years, and then burst forth, pouring out pent-up destruction like the debris of the bottomless pit, the veritable lake of fire and brimstone? Because Great Sangier lies on the other side of the world, we cannot realize the awfulness of it and perhaps it is well that we cannot.

Mr. Hurd, Thursday Night

A rare treat awaits those who shall hear Hon. Frank H. Hurd's speech at Memorial hall Thursday night. The most gifted orator in Ohio, the best exponent of tariff reform in Ohio, his address to the people upon the subject of "Protection and Wages will be a political, an oratorical and a literary gem.

Gov. McKinley spoke his little piece up in Nebraska again yesterday. The Nebraska farmer listened to the oft-told tale of roseate hue, how the tax law, constructed by himself at the instance of a class of manufacturers and monopolists had made the whole country to blossom as the rose and put a piano in every Hungarian shanty parlor (only he didn't word it quite that way), and the Nebraska farmer went home and found his receipts for interest paid on mortgage in their familiar envelope, and his wife in her same old calico gown. Then he scanned the heavens wondering if the good harvest weather would continue. Somehow, the rose color faded from the picture and the plodding of the next day was like that of the day before. After the pretty things are all mapped out before him, he realizes that his prices depend upon the law of demand and supply in the world's markets and the beneficence of the rain and the sun and the fertility of the soil. The prices he pays for what he buys in the "home market" are fixed by the protected manufacturer, and, with the profit of many middlemen added, settle down on his stooping shoulders, at last. Facts are better than pretty pictures where a person's vital interests are involved.

The Michigan legislature is called to meet on Friday in special session to reapportion the state for legislative purposes. Inasmuch as a two-thirds vote will be necessary to pass a bill at this session, it is presumed a fair measure will be adopted or none at all. In the passage of the recent apportionment act the democrats followed republican precedents and a republican court refused to take the medicine. If the reversal by court shall forcibly call the attention of all states to the unfairness of the gerrymander, the democrats of Michigan will not complain of their treatment. In no state more than Ohio has the gerrymander been outrageously partisan and one political party here is as bad as the other. It can not be excused upon good grounds. It is all bad and the plan should be made ancient history as speedily as possible.

It is humiliating to know that a number of Ohio democratic congressmen are among the filibusterers fighting the appropriation of $5,000,000 for the world's fair. This Columbian celebration is no longer provincial in character. It is national and international. The response of other nations to the invitation to participate and the great preparations making the world over, should stir an American with national pride. The United States must take care of the exposition and congressmen are expected to be something besides filibusterers and penny-ante statesmen. The bill should be passed and congressmen should go home.

It is difficult to understand just what the council is driving at in the matter of the natural gas ordinance. The consumers of Northwestern gas appear to be well satisfied and payments at the twenty-cent rate are more prompt than at the old price. So long as the people are desirous of settling the matter it is singular that councilmen should be so backward in responding to public sentiment.

Not to be outdone by the house, the senate will investigate the Pinkerton business. What idiotic folly. The newspapers have told the people more about the the Pinkertons than any senatorial committee of seven can be able to discover. And yet the organs go on tooting "there's no politics in the Homestead conflict."

Private Iams has commenced suits against his brass-mounted military persecutors. The public is in sympathy with the private and will rejoice if he shall obtain justice in the courts.

The London Daily Graphic, handed the Bee by John B. Ketcham, 2d, has a unique cartoon, expressive of the situation at the British election finish. It shows two parallel laddees of many rungs. On the top rung of one sits Mr. Gladstone, wiping his bald head and looking down smilingly on Lord Salisbury, who is only half way up the other ladder. The legend by William, as he looks down from his lofty perch, is "356." Salisbury's has just reached "314," and is, evidently, too tired to go any farther. The Summary of Results at the base is as follows: Conservatives 268, Union Liberals, 46; total, 314. Liberals, 275, Parnellites, 9, Anti-Parnellites, 72; total, 356. Home Rule majority, 42. It is a clever conceit and Mr. Ketcham was right in thinking the Bee would appreciate it.

Col. Shepard wrote a reply to an inquiry by a Boston Globe man, and requested that it should not appear in the Sunday issue, because the good Col.-Editor thinks Sunday papers are wicked. So the Saturday man "got shet" of the stuff, as the Hoosiers say, and the Sunday man put it in shape for Monday's impression. And this is how the great and only Shepard discouraged Sabbath breaking.

Keeley can extend his sphere of usefulness. Jamaica ginger drunkards are becoming alarmingly frequent. Poor man; can't he hit upon any burning exhilarating fluid that he may bruce up on without direful results?

"Howard" speaks of "a little country paper" and his "bucolia friend." That's very large and metropolitan.

LET THERE BE LIGHT.

The Rolling Mill People Will Furnish the Power

That Will Enable the Toledo Electric Light Company to Carry Out Its Contracts With the City.

Yesterday afternoon Manager Moore and the directors of the Toledo Electric Light company closed a deal whereby the power controlled by the Maumee Rolling Mill company will be utilized in lighting the streets of the city.

Dynamos will be placed in the mill as fast as they arrive, and a cable will be thrown across so that direct connections will be made with all lines on this side.

At a meeting of the board of underwriters held yesterday it was decided to charge one per cent. extra insurance on all buildings wherein dynamos would be placed.

This was considered rather steep, and no dynamos will be used outside of those already in use at the Bee building and Shaw & Kendall's.

Mr. F. B. Dodge said that several of the engines in the burned building were practically intact, and he expects to be running dynamos with them this week.

Manager Moore is busily engaged on the plans for the new station. The deal for the Backus property has been practically consummated, and operations upon the new structure will begin in a week or so.

HEBREW WORLD AGITATED.

Sensation Caused by the Radical Departure in Regard to the Abrahamic Rite.

New York, Aug. 3.—The radical departure in regard to the Abrahamic rite made by the recent central conference of Hebrew rabbis in this city has created a remarkable sensation throughout the Hebrew world. The resolution of the conference declaring the acceptance of the rite by proselytes to the Hebrew religion to be optional has aroused widespread discussion, and a movement is already on foot to express the sentiments of the conservative elements of the religion in opposition to the "reform" adopted by the central conference. There are those who predict that the outcome of the action on both sides will be to divide Judaism into two sects, the so-called orthodox body, having already taken measures to call a convention of rabbis to excommunicate those who are responsible for the change.

The Hebrew newspapers throughout this country and even in Europe have raised the cry of treason at the alleged desertion of the rite so particularly enjoined upon Abraham and his descendants by God himself. The action has been condemned from many pulpits, and the question of what is to be done in the emergency has troubled all of the so-called orthodox Hebrews.

The Jewish Times, a weekly paper edited by Rev. Dr. Wechsler, after editorially condemning the abolition of the enforced acceptance of the historic Hebrew rite, has openly declared that the "reformers," by their action, have torn themselves from Judaism and ought no longer to be considered Hebrews.

In the same issue a proclamation to all orthodox rabbis in this country is published, requesting them to meet at some convenient place at a time to be selected, and then and there to declare all followers of the "reform" rabbis to be a sect outside of the Jewish church. This proclamation published by Dr. Wechsler was speedily answered, and within a few days, it is announced, a convention will be held in this city of all orthodox rabbis in America for the purpose of excommunicating the "reformers."

WAS A CLEVER CROOK.

Wm. C. Buchanan Arrested in Chicago.

He is Wanted in Memphis for Swindling the Banks Out of Much Money.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 3.—William C. Buchanan, 23 years of age, was arrested here yesterday. He is wanted at Memphis for forgery. Buchanan is apparently a skillful crook and has swindled the Memphis bankers and brokers out of large sums.

His scheme for obtaining signatures is a novel one. When Buchanan reaches a city he writes to the leading business men, telling them he has a letter of introduction and asks a reply making an appointment. Most men fall into the trap and thus Buchanan obtains the signatures which he afterwards forges on checks.

Villages in southeastern Pennsylvania, and even hundreds (townships) in Delaware, not infrequently take their names from old inns. Birds in Hand, Lancaster county, Pa., is an example of the sort, and in northern Delaware the old Red Lion inn has given name to a village of Black Bird in Delaware also probably take the common name from the sign of an old inn. Fox Chase, in the lower edge of Chester county, Pa., was the picturesque name of a village that grew up about an ancient tavern, but the post-office department has ruthlessly changed it to Appleton.

THE END HAS COME

To Camp Buckland, and the Boys Are at Home.

Week of Pleasure Enjoyed by the Sixteenth Regiment,

And Considerable Instruction Received—The Croghan Exercises—Gala Day at Fremont—Notes Gathered by the Bee.

Camp Buckland is a thing of the past, to be recalled with only the most pleasant recollections.

It was the most successful encampment ever held by the Sixteenth regiment.

The discipline of camp was far above the average, and the citizens speak in highest terms of the general conduct of the boys in the city.

This was the first camp held under the new regulations. Every man in camp, officers and all, were anxious to get through the camp with as few blunders as possible. Every man felt a little shaky as to his ability to accomplish this feat and the result was the little blue-backed instructor was the most extensively utilized article in camp. Then to cap the climax, Captain Heistand, of the regular army, wandered into camp and pitched his tent for the week. Nothing was thought of this, a majority of the men supposing that he was simply a guest of the camp. However, the first guard relief after midnight learned differently, as did every relief after that until 4 o'clock in the morning.

Post number one was doubtless surprised to see a number of muffled figures approaching his beat in the darkness. His surprise quickly passed into amazement when, after the usual preliminaries had been gone through with, a man began firing questions at him at a Gatling gun rate.

This guard never dreamed that some day he would be called upon to state whether he would salute the governor of Alaska, the emperor of Germany, or the queen of England; whether he would salute the wife of the German emperor, the first son and the second son.

Capt. Heistand has many funny experiences in his night prowlings. One night he approached an Irishman named Pat Ryan, who was patroling his beat as stiff and dignified as a judge.

Approaching the guard Capt. Heistand said:

"Pat, supposing the governor of Ohio were to approach your post, would you salute him?"

"I would."

"Would you salute the governor of Oklahoma?"

"Yis sor."

"The emperor of Germany?"

"Indeed, sor."

"Would you salute the queen of England?"

"I would not."

"Oh, yes you would, Pat."

"Indeed, I would not, sor."

"But it would be strictly proper for you to do so."

"With all riverance to yersilf, captain, but I would be hanged first."

However, Captain Heistand never tantalizes a sentinel, as his superior knowledge of military rule and regulation would enable him to do, did he so desire.

On the contrary, he explains himself so thoroughly and lays the matter before the guard so clearly, that the reason for every command and move made by a guard is apparent, and it sets him to thinking. The good of these instructions is manifest. The men get to talking among themselves and the result is they all become better acquainted with the tactics. Then the pride of the average man will not stand more than one failure, and they will read up and endeavor to keep posted.

On Monday the regimental target contest was begun, and finished yesterday. The regimental medal was won by Company E, of Bryan, on a score of 197 points. Company B came next with 192 points, and Company D, of Fostoria, third with 143 points.

Yesterday was rather a quiet day in camp. Muster and inspection of quarters occurred just after guard mount, which utilized the greater portion of the forenoon.

At 1:30 the battalions were formed on the camp ground, and at 2 o'clock the regiment marched up to the city and participated in the celebration, leading the parade in the afternoon. After the ceremonies had concluded the regiment marched back to camp. Following dress parade, the officers returned to the residence of Col. Buckland for tea. The ladies were driven down in the afternoon and viewed the parade from the spacious porches of the Buckland residence. At 8 o'clock the whole party returned to camp. This morning the gold medal was presented to Captain Ashton, of Company E, after which followed the formal breaking up of camp.

The celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Fort Stevenson and the victory gained over heavy odds by the gallant defender, Col. George Croghan, occurred yesterday, and the program as arranged was carried out to the letter. There was something going on all day, from the morning salute of 100 guns to the last fireworks in the evening. It was a gala day and the most successful celebration held for years. The town was jammed and everybody had a good time.

Gen. Hayes, as master of ceremonies, made a few appropriate remarks on the occasion, and was followed by Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller, of Toledo, who delivered the oration of the day. He talked for about 25 minutes, briefly covering the expanse of time from the occurrence of the event of Croghan's victory to the present, touching upon important features, and relating incidents of mirth and point. The speaker was interrupted several times by outbursts of applause and when he had finished he received a perfect ovation. Mr. Hutsinpiller is an interesting speaker. He has a most pleasant address and talks to the point.

When darkness had fallen the day was fittingly brought to a close by a beautiful pyrotechnical display, which was witnessed by thousands of people.

Major Hopkins, Captain McMaken, Col. Bonner, Col. Howe and Gen. Pocock remained in camp all day yesterday.

Ralph Rickenbaugh came down in the evening and was the guest of his brother, Adjutant Rickenbaugh, attending the reception in the evening.

AMERICAN RAILROADS.

Progress Made in Twenty-Five Years—Figures from Poor's Manual.

Poor's Manual for 1892, the twenty-fifth volume of this standard yearly record of the railroads of the United States, has just been published. Its statistics call attention to the marvelous developments of the railways of America in the last 25 years. At the time the work was undertaken by its present publishers, in 1867, the length of all the railroads in the country was 39,250 miles. The figures showing the mileage on January 1, 1892, represent a total of 170,601 miles, an increase of 131,351 miles, or 435 per cent. Since 1867 the rail lines in New England, where the development has been without speculative features, have increased from 3,938 miles to 6,860. The number of miles of railroads included in the western states has grown from 15,700 miles to 100,599 miles, but on the Pacific, where in 1867 there was about 430 miles of line, there is now 12,600 miles. The record of the gain in traffic is even more striking. Twenty-five years ago the aggregate tonnage of the 36,800 miles of railroad then existing in the United States, did not exceed about 47,800,000 tons. In 1891 the record shows a total freight movement on all the roads of the country to the amount of nearly 704,400,000 tons.

During 1891, says the Manual, 4,471 miles of road was built. Returns of capital and indebtedness were furnished by companies representing a total mileage of 167,900. The total share capital and indebtedness of all kinds of the roads making returns was $10,389,834,228, an increase of $267,198,328, or 2.6 per cent. The cost per mile, measured by the aggregate share capital and debt, equals $59,820, against $59,577 in 1890. The returns of operations for the fiscal years included in this volume represent the workings of 164,324 miles of road, the aggregate gross earnings being $1,138,024,459, or 9.1 per cent. of the total investment, and the net earnings, $356,209,880, represent 3.1 per cent. on the same, against 4.9 per cent. in 1880 and 3.4 per cent. in 1890. Interest payments in 1891 were equal to 4 1-4 per cent. on the aggregate bonded debts, and the dividend payments on all the total paid-up capital stocks would represent 1.85 per cent., against 1.80 in 1890 and 1.81 in 1889.

Including elevated railroads the liabilities reported for 1891 are: capital stock, $4,809,176,651; funded debt, $5,235,295,074; unfunded debt, $345,362,563; current debt, $375,791,813; total, $10,765,626,041. Assets were: Cost of railroad and equipment, $9,908,042,194; real estate, stocks, bonds, and other investments, $1,617,031,080; other assets, $485,262,000; total, $11,110,335,276.

Passengers carried numbered 546,015,802; passenger mileage, 13,316,925,239; tons freight carried, 704,308,609; freight mileage, $1,210,154,523. There was a slight increase in the average receipts per passenger per mile, and in the average receipts per ton per mile, the latter being .929 per cent., compared with .927 per cent. in 1890. The only marked decrease in average receipts per ton per mile was in the South Atlantic states, where the rate fell from 1.03 to .97 per cent.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Born on the Day of Pentecost.

Rev. Updyke Paints a Vivid Picture of the Ascension of Christ—The Installation and Inaugural Address of the King of Kings.

The large tent at the corner of Bancroft street and Vermont avenue, was crowded to its utmost capacity last evening, and those who have been regular attendants at these meetings pronounce it one of the most eloquent sermons Rev. Updyke has preached.

From the text, "And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us, at the beginning," Acts 11th chapter, 15th verse, he spoke of the commencement of the Christian era—the birth of the Christian church on the day of Pentecost.

God is a God of order. All things that He willed were accomplished in due season. First came Christ in purpose, then in prophecy, at last in fact. Abraham was not a Christian, John was not a Christian. A Christian is a follower of Christ.

The speaker gave a vivid account of the ascension, the reception at the gate of heaven, and the final installation at the right hand of God. Even Christ must have the password, in order to gain admittance, hence to the command, "Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be lifted up ye everlasting doors," comes the question, "Who is this king of glory?" "The Lord mighty in battle," etc.

Christ had said to his disciples, "greater things than these shall ye do, because I go to my father." And at the beginning, when these ignorant fishermen began speaking in different tongues, the people were amazed, and many mocking, said, "these men are full of new wine." There are many to-day who are ready to mock at the church and its ministers, still deep down in the hearts of worldly people there is respect for true Christians.

But in these days God does not speak through the lips of his preachers. These fishermen made no mistakes, because the holy spirit was speaking through them; but since then men have had to study the scriptures in order to expound them understandingly. When you hear men say that they have only to open their mouths, and God fills them, you may believe it. He does fill them—with air. And it is from these air-guns that evolve the doctrine that Peter didn't know what he was talking about when he said, "repent and be baptized." Not if you feel like it, or if you can stand so much water, but everyone of you. Beware how you slight these holy teachings. Walk in the light that God gives you, that is all the Bible requires—obedience to Christ.

Prof. Hawes sang two beautiful solos, "The Day of Pentecost," and "The Old, Old Story Is True."

This evening Rev. Updyke begins a series of sermons on the Bible Plan of Salvation, using charts.

On Friday evening he will deliver his lecture on "Blues, Their Cause and Cure," This lecture will undoubtedly be worth twice the small admission asked, and it is hoped that it will be well patronized, as the proceeds will be used toward defraying the expense of the meetings which has been heavy.

On next Sunday afternoon, at 3:30, Rev. Updyke will deliver a sermon to ladies only.

WILLIE IS MAD NOW

Uncle Sells Has Been Prodding Him,

And Willie Will Get Back at Him—The Younger Sells Talks to a Bee About His Persecutions.

Wm. Sells, the rider, was speaking to a Bee to-day in regard to the treatment he is receiving at his uncle's hands. "I dislike to indulge in personalities," said William. "I prefer to go on quietly about my business, but there are times when forbearance ceases to be a virtue. Perhaps my partner and myself should feel incored by the slanderous abuse heaped on our heads by Pete and Lew Sells, because they have treated such reputable showmen as P. T. Barnum, Adam Forepaugh, James E. Cooper and J. A. Bailey in the same manner. My precious uncles tell that we can not pay our bills; they will even tell that we have no license to be on earth. Pete Sells claims that Sells brothers possess all rights and title to the name of Sells. If I have no right to the name, how is it that 17 years, boy and man, I traveled with Sells Bros., lithographed as a star and lauded to the skies by them as Willie Sells. When I was traveling with their show making money for them in return for a miserable salary, all was lovely. Now that I have gone into business for myself they go into the most deplorable business of trying to run a member of their own family. I claim the right as a free citizen of the United States to put my name at the head of our show, and I defy uncles or the whole world dispute that right. Uncle Sells is mad! Well, you tell him that Willie is mad, too."

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS.

Four Youngsters, Who Did a Good Business,

Are Caught and Put Behind the Bars—They Are Slick Workers.

Half the thieving done in Toledo is the work of small boys, as the records at the police station show. Four youngsters are pining behind prison bars to-day because they had a hand in several jobs of late.

They are John Gates, aged 11 years, residing at 205 Hunt street; Harry Davis, aged 13, living at 1813 Canton avenue; Henry Hannon, aged 14, of 608 Washington street, and Morris Pepperthal, aged 11 years, living at 1812 Canton avenue.

They have done many jobs around town, some of which have been unearthed. They broke into the Whitehouse saloon at the corner of Summit and Adams streets about a week ago, effecting an entrance in the rear by breaking a window, and stole $15 in money from the cash drawer. Yesterday one of them entered the meat market of Mike Reefer on St. Clair street, in broad daylight and tapped the till for $4 when the proprietor's back was turned. Last night they broke into Freeman's second hand store on Perry street and stole four revolvers. Gates and Davis were arrested under a stairway in an alley last night by Detectives Nichter and Hall. The other two were brought in this morning by Detective Kruse.

The boys had traded a box of cigars for a watermelon at a fruit store, and they owned up to having three more boxes hid under a barn. They will be tried to-morrow morning.

BROKEN IN HEALTH,

A Forger Returns to Answer for His Crime.

James Hunter, Who Stole $106,200 is Back Again in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—James Hunter, who five years ago startled the financial world by precipitate flight from the city, after putting out forged paper to the amount of $106,200, was yesterday held in $10,000 bail to answer, having returned unexpectedly on Sunday.

The fugitive arrived in town Sunday from Brazil on the steamship Seguranca. He is broken in health, his mind is shattered and he bears but a slight resemblance to the once honored business man who was the head of the extensive mill firm of James and John Hunter.

Physicians examined him yesterday and had no hesitation in pronouncing him incurably afflicted mentally. It is thought he will never be in condition to stand trial.

BLAINE WILL TAKE THE STUMP.

Augusta, Me., Aug. 3.—The campaign in Maine will be opened by the republicans the 17th inst. and Chairman Manley is busy arranging for the meetings to be held in every section and corner of the state. Ex-Secretary Blaine will take the stump. Mr. Manley left for Bar Harbor this afternoon to arrange when he will speak.

In the darkened hall he kissed her;
He implanted sixteen kisses on her darling bobbing head.

When she exclaimed, "My goodness!"
He explained his seeming rudeness;
He mistook her for his sister, or at least that's what he said.

Phil Armour, Chicago's great packer, was at one time a miner in a small way near Folsom, Cal., where, after some months of unremitting toil, he secured enough gold washings from the placers to sell for $100. This sum, tied up in an old cotton handkerchief he placed in a delapidated copper pot in his cabin for safe keeping. It remained there unmolested until one of his partners, not knowing the contents of the pot, threw it into a brush heap fire. Great consternation prevailed when Armour told what the pot had contained and there was a vigorous search for it until it was found, blackened and bent, but with the money in it intact. Thereafter the future millionaire carried his cash around with him in a belt.

LUCK IN BLUE MUD.

Hoodoos, Jonahs and kindred banes of the theatrical profession were being discussed and likewise the methods of removing the malign influence of the same. Then up spake Mose Engel, who is now looking after the door of the Grand Opera house, saying, "The early successes of Central Park were founded entirely on blue mud."

"For a hoodoo antidote," he continued, "give me blue mud first, last and all the time. In fact, I feel confident that if its use should once become general, such a thing as a hoodoo show would soon be utterly and absolutely unknown."

In the old days the Mechanics' Pavilion stood on the present site of Central Park, and circuses and kindred ephemeral shows occupied the vacant bog upon which it is now intended to build the new postoffice.

Somewhere along in 1883 a big combination, then known as Jacoby's circus, came out to the coast with as good a company as has ever been brought together in the business. Gorman, the rider, was with them; so was his wife, Linda Jell, one of the best equestriennes that ever rode in a 40-foot ring.

Luck was against them, however. They hardly made expenses, and eventually—in a frantic effort to shake the hoodoo that was besetting the enterprise—Charlie Sherman, who was managing the outfit, shipped circus, animals, horses and all aboard one of Spreckels's boats and sailed away to Honolulu. Sherman died on the islands, and it devolved upon John Jacoby and Mose Engel to take back the troupe to America.

It was all they could do to pay the passage of the performers themselves. The horses and wild animals had to be hypothecated before that much could be successfully accomplished; but as long as the human element of the combination got back everybody felt thankful, and it was with the most cheerful confidence in the goodness of Providence that they reopened their show at Eureka, Humboldt county, in the week of the Fourth of July, 1884.

There was not a four-footed creature on the muster role, but that was a matter of detail. They successfully "worked the town" with old paper and cleared out with enough cash to pay their fare to San Francisco.

When the frightful tornado of July, 1884, swept over Humboldt county a week or so later the Eureka Times-Telephone came out editorially with a remark to the effect that it praised God for having sent a cyclone this time instead of a second visitation of Jacoby's circus.

Engel came down to the metropolis in advance of the show, and while looking around for a cheap site he happened across the vacant lot that is now Central Park.

A year before the circus had played at the Grand Opera house. A ring had been made on the stage, and the performance was excellent; but the hoodoo on the house, as has been stated, ruined the business. Anyhow, the rent was an insurmountable barrier to the remnants of what had been Jacoby's circus, and when Engel met Shearer, who was then agent for the property, and hired the vacant lot for a week for $30 he felt that he was doing a good stroke of business.

Now, it happened that Cole's circus—one of the legitimate shows on the regular circuit—was billed through the town to appear the following week. That was a godsend to Engel. He got out 40,000 quarter-sheet hangers, but not a single display poster. He flooded the town with the little hangers, and for the rest of his advertising he "showed on Cole's paper."

There is no more low-down, ordinary trick in the circus business than showing on another man's paper; but it was a case of hard pan with the Jacoby combination, and Cole could better afford the loss of business than they. Therefore, they worked Cole's posters for what they were worth, and incidentally worked Chinatown.

On the first Sunday matinee they had 3,700 Chinamen at the show. It was the first time that Chinamen had ever been known to turn out in force at a Caucasian celebration in San Francisco, and, therefore, was the occasion of much free advertising. Incidentally it put the show on its feet financially, and that was what Engel, Jacoby & Co. were for.

But to return to the blue mud.

When Engel got the lot it looked all right and he immediately gathered together his canvas men and began driving stakes for the tent.

At the first effort he saw that it was no place for a tent. The first blow with the maul drove the pegs clean up to the notch into the soft, yielding mud, while a five-pound pull yanked them out again.

It was impossible to get a grip in the ground, no matter how they welted or tamped it. Erecting a tent without guy ropes was equally impossible, so Engel sat down and wept.

During all the operations a little wiry Irishman had been sitting on the fence and carefully watching the canvasmen, and when he saw Engel give up in despair he climbed down from his perch and approached him.

"Sor," said he, "is it dhrivin' pegs in the likes o' this you do be thryin' to?" and he kicked the soft sand with his toe.

"Yes," answered the unhappy Mose, "but they won't drive, it's no use trying."

"Well, shure, I wasn't sayin' they would," acquiesced the stranger. "Shure, it's dom well I know it, an' I wuz jist waitin' fur to see how long yez 'ed be larnin' thot same."

"And why didn't you tell us then?" sobbed Engel.

"Whisht, whisht, me bhoy. Now you'll be afther listenin' to me, but if I'd bothered yez afore yez 'ed be tellin' me to lave yez alone, for I wuz mad. Now, sor, I'll tell yez this, an' that's that I've got the savin' o' yez; but it'll come high, seein' as how it's a dollar a load that it'll be afther costin' yez."

"And what's that?" again queried Engel.

"Blue mud!" said the Irishman. "Nothin' but blue mud. With a hundred cartloads costin' wan dollar apiece, yez can glue down them tint pigs from now till the day o' judgmint."

Engel jumped at the offer, the Irishman filled his contract, and a superstratum of rich blue mud was spread over Central Park.

"It must have been the blue mud that killed the Jonah," concluded Engel. "Anyhow, it turned the fortunes of the great Jacoby show.

"Though we had not a horse or a wild beast to our name, we played to glorious houses. When people inquired after the tigers and things they had seen in Cole's posters we said they were all in quarantine.

"Walter Morosco was our ringmaster, and from the day he first put his foot down on that blue mud he has been lucky. Jacoby founded a fortune in that blue mud and died rich in Los Angeles a year or so ago. I'm not a millionaire yet, and don't expect to be one before Christmas; but when I was up on the gate of the Wild West show for Carver last week I could not help remembering how I hired Central Park for $30 a week eight years ago, and how we founded a new place of amusement on 100 cartloads of blue mud that were supplied by one Andy Maguire."—San Francisco Examiner.

LEPERS IN BOKHARA.

The Emir Issues an Order to Separate the Men from the Women.

Some months ago The Sun had a brief paragraph about the lepers of Bokhara who were permitted to marry each other, and thus perpetuate and extend leprosy in central Asia and beyond it. None of the books of travelers who have within the past few years visited Bokhara gives any details of the pest spot in the big city of central Asia, but Mr. Emile Miller has written recently a short note on the lepers of Bokhara, which has appeared in a Russian periodical of Samarcand. He says that comparatively few people know that the city of Bokhara has its leper quarter. The outcasts are huddled togther in houses on the northern edge of the city. The district is known by the name of Gouzari Pssiane. The lepers live there in a state of the greatest independence, receive no medical assistance, and, in fact, do not ask for it. Marriages among them having never been prohibited, new generations of these unfortunates spread the disease.

It is worthy of remark that up to 17 years of age the children do not show any trace of the terrible malady, but three years after the disease covers their bodies. The Emir of Bokhara has had his attention called to the evils resulting from the marriage of these victims of the disease, and in accordance with the advice of Russian physicians, he, last fall, ordered the separation of the men from the women. He also decided to establish a hospital for lepers, and to employ in that institution the best specialists, in order to see if leprosy cannot be cured, or, at least, the sufferings of the victims mitigated. The order of the Emir was of a drastic nature and could be warranted only by the sternest necessity, for it separated husbands and wives, brothers and sisters, and children and parents.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED,
as a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

BABIES NOW DYING.

Half the Deaths in July and August.

Cholera Infantum is Raging Like an Epidemic.

Mothers Warned to Look to the Feeding.

The Mortality Not a Necessary Evil.

Dangers Hidden in Milk Cans Easily Avoided.

Think of it!

A child just born has less chance of living than an octogenarian!

One child in every five in the northern half of the United States dies before it has lived a year.

With cholera infantum raging as it is east and west this summer, these facts cannot be put to parents too plainly.

In Boston, as long ago as the middle of July, the death rate began to show a remarkable increase over last year, and of the 224 deaths recorded in a week, more than a third of them were of children under one year, and 108, or almost one-half of them, under five years. And the same ratio held in Chicago, where for the same week, out of about 400 deaths, 198 were of babies. Children have been dying by hundreds in New York, and reports from other cities are proportionately serious.

This mortality is not a necessary evil, for, as every single writer on the subject (from the eminent Dr. Routh, to whom every physician turns for advice, down to the honest medical student, whose opinions see light in the popular medical journals) agrees, it arises principally from the improper manner in which children are fed.

How general is the want of proper breast milk is measured by the number of houses in which there is a nursing bottle.

But the mortality of children brought up on a bottle has lessened for some years past in considerable proportions. For example, the mortality which formerly reached the figure of 90 out of every 100 has been reduced to an average of 10 out of every 100 where lactated food is used.

It was not until the manufacture of lactated food was perfected by Prof. Boynton of Vermont university, and his associates, that a perfect substitute was found for mother's milk. Wet nurses had their fatal day. The dangers that are hidden in milk cans, especially in summer, have called for public censure. Scores of trade "foods," manufactured of secret ingredients, have proved worse than harmful.

The statement made at the end of an investigation of cholera infantum in this country, that "infants fed on lactated food suffer less and fewer die than those fed on any other," has been more thoroughly verified within a year than ever before.

It is undoubtedly the most perfect substitute for mother's milk that science and the experience of years can produce.

Like nature's food, its basis is the purest sugar of milk, in proportions to closely represent mother's milk. With it is combined pure barley malt, the finest wheat gluten, and the nutritious elements of the oat, and the mixture is thoroughly cooked by high steam heat. It contains all the properties essential to the maintenance of life and the healthful growth of bone, flash and muscle. It is palatable and children take it naturally.

Best of all, lactated food, with which thousands of little ones have been started on their way to long life, is not out of reach. A dollar package will give an infant 150 meals. One of the smaller-sized packages that druggists retail for 25 cents makes 10 pints of the best and most reliable food for infants that there is. It is really more economical, as it is safer, especially at this season, than cow's milk.

These are trying days for the little ones, and the more general the use of lactated food becomes, the less cause there will be for sorrow now and regret when the summer is over.

CATCHING BLUE FISH.

Geo. E. Moore Tells Some Tall Stories

Of a Fishing Experience On Long Island Sound—He Knocks Out Gunckel Easily.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Moore have returned from an extended outing to New England summer resorts. George is something of a fisherman himself, and if the strings he caught were half as long or as gilded as are his fishing stories he evidently bankrupted the Atlantic.

Usually his summer vacation is spent on Canadian and Michigan fishing grounds, but this year he turned his face eastward, and fishing in Long Island sound must be immense.

"We went out one afternoon in a naphtha launch," he said yesterday to a Bee to whom he was telling some very fishy fish stories, "and caught more blue fish than we well knew what to do with. The wind was blowing fresh and the waves were running so high that we were obliged to run under the lee of Fisher's island, where we lay all night. The captain, an old-time expert, had us up by 2 a. m. Talk about fishing, my!"

"Beat Gunckel?"

"Gunckel ain't in it. The captain saw the bluefish breaking as soon as it was light, and we made for the spot. You know how bluefish are caught. No? Well, I'll tell you. Within an inch of a good strong steel hook you have a piece of cedar about eight inches long and half an inch or so in diameter. This piece of wood is leaded at each end and so arranged that the line which runs through it plays in it freely.

"The fish, when they bite, bite ravenously and swallow bait and all. This piece of cedar, you understand, is the bait. Well, on the occasion I refer to the captain saw we were in for a day's fishing and he was anxious that we should get to work as soon as possible. Turning to me he said:

"'Have you ever caught bluefish?'

"'Never.'

"'Do you like fishing?'

"I am very fond of it."

"Well, then, you are going to see the greatest fishing this morning you ever saw in your life.'

"And I did.

"There were five of us. We reached the spot where the blue fish were jumping in, and I tell you the actual truth when I say that the fry and minnows were so thick that the water seemed at times almost solid.

"We threw out our hooks and into the shoal, for such it was. Our little launch plunged. There were three lines from the stern of the boat and one from each side, extending on a stick some four feet over the boat rail so as not to foul with the three rear lines.

"We had hardly struck the place when biff—away went every line, and you ought to have seen that fight with those five fishes. In less time than it takes to tell it we had five of as fine blue fish as you'd want to see in the bottom of the boat.

"It was a little after 5 o'clock in the morning when we got our first bite, and from that until 7 o'clock, when the fish stopped biting, we caught 96, the smallest of which weighed three and the largest six pounds. The majority weighed between four and five pounds."

"What did you do with them?"

"We gave all but a few to the captain, and he sold the catch for $25, so he was well repaid for his day's outing. The strangest thing about it was that our boat could plough its way time and time again, through the shoal, and yet they wouldn't scare, but would bite on our return trip as savagely as ever. I tell you it was fun."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Moore, neither of whose health was good, are vastly improved by the trip.

NEBRASKA POLITICS.

The People's Party Show Great Activity.

Powers and Van Wyck the Two Leading Candidates for the Governorship.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 3.—The people's party convention was called to order at noon to-day, and there promises to be a lively fight before the nominations are made. Apparently the strongest candidate for the gubernatorial nomination is ex-Senator Charles Van Wyck, but John H. Powers is also in the field and shows no signs of withdrawing.

As a compromise it has been suggested that one of them get off the track and receive the support of the other in the approaching selection of a United States senator.

It is generally conceded that the fight in Nebraska this year lies between the republican and people's parties, as the democrats, notwithstanding that they elected Boyd in 1890, realize that they are not in it this year, and Boyd himself has declined to run, stating that he won two years ago on the prohibition issue, but that his well known opposition to that cause will avail him nothing this year for the simple reason that that issue is dead and buried.

The republicans will hold their convention to-morrow at Lincoln, and the democrats, who have been awaiting developments, will probably fix a date for their convention in a few days.

THE QUEEN IN POLITICS.

She is Far from Being a Simple Figurehead.

The common idea, which according to Mr. Bagehot prevailed in his youth among the peasantry of Somersetshire, was that the sovereign did everything. The extension of popular education and the diffusion of general enlightenment have led to the precisely opposite impression, that the sovereign does nothing. The ignorance which is half knowledge is often as misleading as the lie that is half a truth. Her majesty, like the queen of the nursery rhyme, is supposed to spend her time "eating bread and honey," or in some employment as remote from public concern. "They that wear soft raiment are in kings' houses," and their function is to be the wearers of soft raiment. It seems to be commonly believed that the sovereign is simply a pageant out of doors, and a puppet in what used to be called the closet; that she cannot come to a decision without taking somebody's advice, and that then she must come to the decision which she is advised to adopt; that she cannot take a step without leaning upon somebody's arm, and can move only as she is moved.

The ridiculous conception of the office of the monarch, during the period which intervenes between the resignation of one minister and the appointment of another, is probably due to the misinterpretation of two current phrases. "The queen reigns, but does not govern." But this does not mean that she takes no part in the government. The other misleading words are "ministerial responsibility"—misleading because they are applied to a state of things in which ministerial responsibility has necessarily ceased to exist. The right of advising the sovereign depends on the minister having the confidence of the majority of the house of commons, to which he is responsible for the advice he gives, and for such action as may be taken upon it. "The queen can do no wrong." But the minister whose resignation has been tendered and accepted, though he still holds office in order to carry on the routine of administration until his successor shall be appointed, has from the nature of the case forfeited for, if his resignation follows on a general election or on an adverse vote in the new parliament, failed to win the confidence of the house of commons. It would be an usurpation on his part, calling for rebuke, and perhaps for parliamentary censure, if he presumed, in his character of locum tenens or care-taker, to tender his unasked advice to the sovereign. Lord Beaconsfield was too good a courtier to fail in deference to the autocracy of the queen in the single incident of the royal office to which the word autocracy can be applied. His monarchical doctrine was too high to permit him to intrude upon ground which is reserved for the sovereign alone, even if his acquaintance with English history and politics did not suffice to guard him from the mistake in etiquette and constitutional usage which is attributed to him. Of course, the queen, if she had chosen, might have asked for his opinion, as the privy councilor and peer at the moment nearest to her, in both capacities constitutionally entitled to counsel her. But she was neither bound to ask for it nor bound to take it if given. Proximity, it is true, goes for something, and close and first-hand acquaintance with affairs. But, after allowing for these things, it may perhaps be said that the outgoing prime minister is the very last person whose opinion ought to be taken, because, even if we attribute to him the most chivalrous sense of duty to his sovereign and his country, it is scarcely possible that he should completely lay aside the personal feelings generated by conflict, and the instinct of a political leader to do the best for his party and the worst, or at any rate only the second best, for his opponents. The idea that the outgoing prime minister authoritatively recommends to the sovereign the statesman for whom she shall send—that is to say, that he practically nominates his successor, and in so doing decides the character and to a great extent the personal composition of the new cabinet—is almost too absurd for statement, though it seems not to be too absurd for general belief. The Emperor Napoleon might almost as naturally have been trusted with the selection of the commander of the English forces; in which case, we may be sure, the Duke of Wellington would not have fought at Waterloo, nor would there have been any Waterloo to be lost and won.

It is the right and duty of the queen, if the situation is not perfectly clear to her own mind, to seek further information from the knowledge, and light from the sagacity of persons supplied with either, whether they be peers, or privy councilors, or mere observers of affairs. But, though these persons may enlarge or correct the sovereign's materials for judgment, the judgment is hers alone. This is true, as Mr. Gladstone has pointed out, of the ordinary exercise of sovereignty, in which the queen is sheltered by the responsibility of her ministers. The absurdity, already dwelt upon, of the doctrine that the outgoing prime minister has practically the nomination of his successor is deducible from the general doctrine that the queen should not take counsel with the leaders of the opposition upon the measures and policy of her ministers. Nor is there any necessity that she should do so. Her majesty has probably a much better knowledge of the characters and capacities of the eminent statesmen who have been her confidential servants than they have of each other. She knows Mr. Gladstone probably better than Lord Beaconsfield did. She understood Lord Beaconsfield, it may reasonably assumed, more thoroughly than Mr. Gladstone was able to do. The colloquies of the closet are more confidential than the conversations of political rivals behind the speaker's chair—to say nothing of debate and dialogue across the table. The queen, after more than half a century of sovereignty, must have as just an appreciation of the position of the leading politicians in parliament, of their relations to each other, to the several sections of their respective parties, and to those parties as a whole, of their influence in the house of commons independently of party, and their authority in the country, as the venerable father of the house himself, or any other parliamentary veteran.

To use Mr. Gladstone's words: "The sovereign, as compared with her ministers, has, because she is the sovereign, the advantages of long experience, wide survey, elevated position, and entire disconnection from the bias of party." This experience, at once continuous and infinitely varied, is a training for the conduct of public business which, except the queen herself, no person in her realm has or can have. It qualifies her for "the exercise of a direct and personal influence in the whole work of government," for which (to use once more Mr. Gladstone's words) the damirable arrangements of the constitution, completely shielding her from personal responsibility, have left ample scope. This participation applies to the ordinary working of the political machine. If the queen cannot bring the ministers to her way of thinking, and they possess the confidence of the house of commons, and presumably o fthe country, she will acquiesce in their proposals. Offener, perhaps, than is suspected, there is a process of give-and-take, and a reasonable harmony is established, more closely corresponding to the intentions of both parties to it than the unreconciled proposals of either. The late Lord Derby bore public testimony in the house of lords to the great and beneficial influence which the queen had exercised on public affairs in the discharge of those duties of her office which Mr. Gladstone describes in his essays. The prime minister and the foreign secretary, even when they are not one and the same person, are usually supposed to possess a sort of joint dictatorship in foreign affairs, which is practically a single dictatorship wielded by that minister who is the stronger of the two.

Whatever may be the limits and conditions of the queen's authority in the ordinary processes of government, it is without limits and conditions other than those imposed by good sense and a regard for the public well-being—an understanding, in one word, of the political situation—in the interval between the resignation of one minister and the summoning of his destined successor. "The whole power of the state" (to quote Mr. Gladstone once more) "periodically returns on to the royal hands when a ministry is changed."—The National Review.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

Senator James F. Pierce, of New York, writes:

"For the past two years I have suffered very much from an aggravated form of nervous dyspepsia. I have resorted to various remedial agents, deriving but little benefit. A few months since a friend of mine suggested the trial of Allcock's Porous Plasters. Following the suggestion, I have been using the same with the happiest effects. To those similarly afflicted let me suggest the manner of their use. I place one over my stomach, one over the hepatic region, and one on my back. The effect is excellent. From the day I commenced their use have been slowly but surely improving, and am quite confident that by continuing I shall again be restored to my accustomed health."

HE CAME TOO LATE.

Pathetic Story of a Wife's Secret and a Husband's Forgiveness.

(New York Correspondence Courier-Journal.)

By the bye, do you ever go to funerals? Generalizing, I think it is wrong. As the darkies say, one funeral makes many. But the other day I was induced to go to one because I knew the love story of the woman who lay there placidly asleep forever. Her husband bent over her and wept bitterly, and all that I could say to myself was that it was remorse. But afterward I heard of something that happened just before death came into that house, and it made me a little gentle in my judgment of the man. You remember the story of Frou-Frou. Well, there has been many a Frou-Frou who lived and died in your time and mine, and among them is the woman who went to sleep only such a little while ago. Her life was a curious one. When she was very young she lived in Paris, and there met a young man; there was an unfortunate story, a duel away off in the south of France and a little baby's grave. When the young girl came back to this country no one, of course, knew anything about this, and in a very short time a rich man asked her to be his wife. She went to her mother, asking of her that the story might be told him; then if he wished to marry her she was willing. The mother promised that it should be—but it never was. Two days after her marriage she said something to her husband about it, and to her horror discovered he knew nothing of it, so she told him, and from that day on he never spoke to her.

Years came and went, she grew bitter, the world called her sarcastic, and never supposed that any reason existed for the cutting words that she said, because as they claimed, she had plenty of money, a handsome husband and a beautiful home. One night she went to see Frou-Frou, and listening to the story told by the greatest genius of the day there came to her the thought: "If I speak to my husband again perhaps he might forgive me." So that night she went to his room, told him how she felt and pleaded that her youth and ignorance might excuse her crime; insisted on her great anxiety that he should know it, and then, well, he stooped over, kissed her and told her that the next day they would begin life again, and begin a new life—a life full of love and happiness. She went back to her room, threw herself on her bed, and in the morning when they came to waken her she was lying asleep—in that sleep from which there was no waking, and on her face was the sweetest of smiles, so that dead she looked as young as she did when she stood a bride before her sweetheart.

MARKETS OF THE WORLD

What the Weather Has Done to Crops.

A Review of Conditions of the Grain.

Quotations from All the Trading Points on the Globe—Prices in Toledo.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 243,983 bu, and at five other western points 799,502 bu, aggregate 1,043,485 bu. On the corresponding Wednesday in 1891 the receipts were 1,037,235 bu, with only 38,300 bu northwest receipts. Deducting northwest from 1891 receipts leaves the movement from five other points 1,005,185 bu, compared with 799,502 bu to-day.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were, wheat 285,407 bu, and flour to an aggregate of 310,000 bu. Export of corn 103,783 bu, and of oats 33,184 bu.

Evidently a strong effort was again made at Chicago this morning to advance prices on wheat, corn and oats. It was successful on oats and in small measure on wheat and corn. The threshing returns on oats are disappointing. On wheat and corn the little advance was made on expected hot weather in the northwest. At Chicago a great number of dealers are alarmed by a sunbeam or a rainbow, and it will beat an outsider out of his boots to follow them. The advance did not hold and the market there closed at a loss on wheat. New York about steady.

Corn closed nearly steady in Chicago, and gained a little in New York. Oats closed higher east and west.

Foreign markets closed without new features of consequence, so far as wheat is concerned. Corn closed stronger.

In New York August wheat closed at 83 1-2c, a gain of 1-4c; September at 84 1-4c, unchanged. August corn closed at 56 1-8c, and September at 55 1-8c, a gain of 3-8c. August oats at 37 1-2c, a gain of 3-4c.

In Chicago August wheat closed at 77 1-2c, a loss of 5-8c; September at 77 3-4c, a loss of 3-8c. August corn at 49 3-4c, unchanged; September at 49c, a loss of 1-4c. August oats at 32c, a gain of 3-8c.

In Toledo—The trading in wheat has been more active both for cash and futures. On the regular market opening prices were 3-8c to 1-2c higher, and the trading was rather spirited, but the market soon weakened and broke off rather steadily to the close at the lowest prices of the day. August and September closed at 79 3-4c, a loss of 1-4c on September and unchanged on August. On the call September sold at 80 3-8c and December at 83 1-2c. After the call August sold at 80 1-4c to 3-8c, and closed at 79 3-4. September sold at 80 1-2c to 5-8c and closed at 79 3-4c. December sold at 83 1-2c and closed at 83c unchanged. Cash wheat was in good request with sales of 65,000 No. 2 saft, and 85,000 No. 3. No. 2 soft sold at 80 1-4c to 1-2c and closed at 79 3-4c, sellers unchanged. No. 3 soft at 74 1-2c and closed at 74c. No. 4 soft at 70c to 69 1-2c. Rejected at 65c; smutty at 73c; No. 2 white at 77c; No. 3 white at 71c.

Corn—No. 2 at 48 1-2c. Rye—On the call August sold at 68 1-2c. After the call August at 68c, and September at 67c. Clover seed was a shade firmer. October sold at $5 32 1-2 for 400 bags, and closed at $5 30@5 32 1-2.

Cose in New York.

New York, Aug. 3.—Money easy, 1 1-2 per cent. Exchange steady; $4.87@4.87 1-4 for 60 days and $4.88 1-4@4.88 1-2 for demand. Governments steady; currency 6s $1.06 1-2 bid; 4s coupon $1.16 bid; extended 2s registered $1.00 bid. Stocks were a little more active to-day. The advance ranged from 1-8 to 7-8 per cent. The general list fell off fractionally by noon. At 1 p m. the market is dull. Sales to noon 102,413 shares.

Flour steady; suerfine $1.75@2.35; Minnesota extra, $2 15@4 85.

Wheat opened firm and on a moderate business and less favorable crop reports prices advanced 3-4c by noon; No. 2 red winter, cash, 84 3-4c; September, 84 5-8c; October, 85 7-8c; December, 88 5-8c.

Corn was strong and advanced 3-8@1-2c by noon; No. 2 mixed, cash, 60c; August, 56 1-2c; September, 55 1-2c.

Savannah, Aug. 3.—Firm at 27c.
Charleston, Aug. 3.—Steady at 26 1-2c.

Dry Goods.

New York, Aug. 3.—There was some improvement in the demand for dry goods to-day, with a few large buyers among the many smaller ones. Staple cottons, brown and colored chiefly, were in leading request. There was more doing also in bleached cottons than a little while ago. Exporters and converters show more interest in brown goods, and some agents are looking for a firmer market in consequence. Prints continue very firm, but as yet they are in moderate duplicate demand. Clothing woolens begin to decline in interest, the bulk of trade having been accomplished. Jobbers are not yet busy here, but trade is improving and the outlook is felt to be good.

Wool.

The Country's Crops.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The week has been unusually warm, but the rainfall for the season continues in excess in most sections. Special telegraph reports:

Pennsylvania—All crops improved.

Mississippi—All crops better cultivated and outlook more favorable.

Louisiana—Cotton not fruiting well, lower bolls rotting; some sections cane splendid, but not all worked out.

Texas—Cotton improved in many sections, but there are numerous complaints of shedding from effects of drought.

Arkansas—Weather favorable for cotton, but corn suffering in western portion from drought; cotton small and late, but fruiting fairly well.

Tennessee—Favorable weather for haying and threshing, wheat but slightly damaged by rain when in shock.

Kentucky—All crops suffering from rain, especially in western section; corn on uplands drying up, tobacco outlook not so good.

Missouri—All work progressing favorably, wheat crop short, oats light and rusty, corn doing well.

Illinois—Rain needed for corn in three southernmost counties, army worm reported to be destroying oats.

Indiana—Corn growing rapidly, threshing of wheat and oats continues with good results generally.

West Virginia—High temperature, retarded growth of corn, hay about to be harvested and secured in good order; oats mostly cut except in northern counties.

Ohio—Harvesting and threshing progressing, haying nearly over; oats ready for harvesting; corn silking and earing out and growing nicely; tobacco improving; grasshoppers damaging oats.

Michigan—Wheat harvesing mostly finished and threshing well along in southern counties.

Wisconsin—Winter wheat, rye and barley being cut; some damage from rust and lodging by high winds; hay large crop; corn doing well.

Minnesota—Barley cutting and haying progressing in northwest and west; crop good.

Iowa—Improved by rain; oats and barley injured; harvest progressing and nearly completed in southern portion.

North Dakota—Barley harvest commenced; some winter rye cut.

South Dakota—Corn advancement phenomenal; barley harvest advanced; oat harvest general; wheat harvest begins next week.

Nebraska—Corn slightly but permanently injured by hot, dry weather.

Kansas—Conditions generally favorable, corn in splendid condition, tasseling in north, in roasting ear in central and southern portions; threshing begun; oats and flax yielding well.

Oklahoma—All crops doing well; late corn assured; farmers plowing and making hay.

Montana—Hay harvest begun; crop was about average in western and above average in eastern portion; killing frost in northwest portion on 20th, grain crop short except where irrigated.

Wyoming—Splendid week for growiing crops and fair for harvesting.

Colorado—General conditions remain good.

New Mexico—Great improvement in grass on cattle ranges; fruit in excellent condition.

Utah—Harvesting well advanced on eastern side of Salt Lake; threshing begun in central portion; grain ripening faster than can be cut; harvest begun in northern counties.

Washington—Very favorable week; grain heavy yield; hops growing well.

Oregon—Threshing in full progress; wheat berry of good quality; hops more promising.

California—Crops below average.

Harvest Is Here.

Columbus, Aug. 3.—Crop bulletin No. 17 from the weather bureau to-day shows the following concerning Ohio:

Weather conditions—Over the northern section the rainfall, temperature, and sunshine were above the average. Over the middle section the rainfall, temperature and sunshine were in excess of the average. Over the southern section the rainfall was deficient except at scattered local points where heavy showers occurred; the temperature and sunshine were above the average.

Crop conditions—Northern section—The weather during the week was favorable for harvesting and threshing. All growing crops were greatly benefitted by opportune showers. The wheat is generally threshing out poor with shrunken berry. Oats are ready to harvest and are in good condition. The corn looks small but is growing well, and was much benefitted by the warm, showery weather and is silking. Having is nearly over and of good quality. The buckwheat looks well. The tobacco is doing nicely. Grasshoppers are injuring the clover and oats in some counties. Blackberries are ripe and plentiful, but blasted in some counties by drouth. Potatoes are improving. The drouth during the first part of the week was injurious to the growing crops.

Middle section—Considerable wheat was threshed and hauled during the first half of the week; during the latter part showers retarded the work. Oats are partly cut and promise a fair crop; they were lodged in some localities by wind storms. Corn is silking out and growing very nicely since the recent rains. Hay is nearly all made and promises a fair crop. Pastures and potatoes are improving—they were damaged some by insects during the week. A few early peaches and pears are ripe. Grapes are rotting considerably. Grasshoppers are numerous and are damaging oats, cloverseed, timothy, corn, and pastures in quite a number of counties. The weather was excessively hot and sunny with occasional showers during the week and did much good to all growing crops.

Southern section—The first half of the week was very warm and dry, and as a consequence the growing crops suffered some; during the latter half copious local showers fell and the temperature was reduced, the prevalent conditions greatly reviving and favoring a rapid growth of the crops. Harvesting is about completed and threshing is in general progress. The hay and oats are nearly all cut and secured or shocked. The corn has advanced fairly well. Early potatoes are being dug, with the yield fair; late potatoes are not doing so well. The tobacco in some counties is doing well, in others it is firing and being damaged by insects. In a few counties the grasshoppers are damaging the oats and corn. The blackberry crop is damaged considerably by the excessive heat of the first half of the week. The rains are delaying work somewhat.

TOLLS ON CANADIAN CANALS.

Officials Still Discussing the Matter—Canada Asks for a Delay of Action.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Secretary of State Foster had a conference yesterday with Mr. Herbert, British charge d'affaires, over the question of tolls on the Canadian canals, in connection with the retaliation passed by congress.

The conference was quite extended, but the results, if any were reached, are carefully guarded. It is said that Mr. Herbert intimated that the discriminating tolls charged against American vessels for using the Canadian canals, while within the letter of the treaty between the two countries respecting the navigation of the canals and the St. Lawrence, was probably not in accordance with the spirit of the document.

He disclaimed any knowledge of an intention on the part of the Dominion government or that of the mother country to enter upon or to authorize a series of reprisals against the United States in case President Harrison acts under the terms of the new law.

He probably recognized, if he did not admit, the unutility of such a course, as it would at once lead to the entire suspension of a great part, if not the greater part of the traffic of the Canadian Transcontinental line.

It was said at the state department that the officials there did not know that Sir John Thompson, of Canada, is on his way to Washington to secure a pledge from the president that he will not issue his proclamation until the opportunity has been given the Canadian government to hear from England and decide on a line of immediate action.

While President Harrison does not usually act precipitately in public matters, it is probable that whatever delay there may be in issuing a proclamation will be due to a consideration of interests on this side of the border.

Handsome Embroideries for ladies' and children's wear just opened At LAMSONS'.

The passer-by who looks over the iron fence and across the green grass at the prim red meeting-house on Fifteenth street and Rutherford place, New York, where the friends assemble on every Lord's day and Fourth day, is likely to have his mind filled with visions of dove-colored dresses and broad-brimmed hats. Let him ring the bell on Sixteenth street and these visions will be dispelled by a quakeress in worldly garb and short hair. She is full of little airs, and says "you" and "yours" like other people. There is nothing inside the building to remind one of William Penn—none of the austere simplicity of the ideal quaker.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 3.—The clothing store of Israel Weinberg was slightly damaged by fire last night. An investigation by the fire marshal showed that the goods in the store had been saturated with kerosene. Weinberg was arrested, charged with arson, and was held in $5,000 bail. The upper floors of the building are occupied as a tenement by a large number of families, and had the fire gained headway serious results might have followed.

The Princess Louise Cut in Two by a Tug.

Passengers and Crew Make Their Escape.

Vessel Passages Through the Straits and Rivers—Rates and Cargoes.

Toronto, Aug. 3.—The passenger steamer Princess Louise and the tug Rescue collided off Thompson's point last night.

The Princess Louise was cut down and the captain made a desperate effort to reach shore before sinking.

In this he was unsuccessful. The steamer went down, but not a great way from the beach.

Boats had been lowered in time and all passengers and crew were taken off in safety.

The Princess Louise was on her way up the lake. The tug Rescue had left Desceronto about 10 o'clock with the steambarge Rebecca and barges Osiris and Puritan in tow.

When the tug and Princess Louise met the latter tried to take the starboard side, but did not clear the tug which struck her amidship on the port side.

Republicans are disturbed about the possibility of electing their candidate for councilman in the Seventh ward. The democratic nominee, Mr. George B. Hull, is a gentleman possessing a character, both public and private, which commends him to the people. He ought to be, and no doubt will, be elected.

Mr. J. J. Orr, father of Herbert Orr, who recently left for Paris to pursue his study of the languages, called at the Bee office this morning to deny the report that his son was dying of cholera at Paris. He was ill with fever, according to a cablegram received, and was believed to be getting well, since Mr. Orr had not further intelligence. Herbert's friends, as well as those of the family, will hope that fatal results may not follow, as the young man is destined for a bright career with his push and energy.

During the dog-day season, the drain of nervous and vital energy may be counteracted by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, it acts as a superb corrective and tonic, and enables the system to defy malarial and other climatic influences.

THE GRAND BOUNCE.

There were only two men in a Fifth avenue stage that was jolting up and down like a ship at sea. One of the sufferers objected very much to being bounced about, and complained in bitter terms of the inconvenience, while the other smiled and seemed to be perfectly at home.

"You seem to like being bounced," remarked the sufferer as he caromed on the cushion.

"I was in the custom house, and the bounce I got from Harrison makes this bouncing in the stage a mere pastime. You see I was in the New York custom house, and being a democrat, I got such a bounce that the bouncing I'm getting now does not effect me in the least."—Texas Siftings.

AN ABSENT-MINDED JOURNALIST.

Jim Faberpusher is one of the most industrious journalists in New York. He thinks of nothing but his professional duties.

One day his wife (to whom he was recently married) said to him:

"You don't speak to me any more. Have you ceased to love me?"

"O, no, but I just can't find time, I'm pressed for time."

"Yes, but I don't get pressed at all," responded the neglected wife. This well-merited rebuke reminded the journalist of his obligations to his better half.—Texas Siftings.
